Indians Trade Shots As Reds Invade Pass

Pakistani Decision On Kashmir Truce Awaited At U.N.

COMBINED AP & UPI

A small force of Chinese troops invaded the Himalayan protectorate of Sikkim through 14,300-foot high Nathula Pass today and were driven off by Indian Army border guards, a UPI dispatch from Sikkim's capital of Gangtok reported.

The incursion, a day ahead of the expiration of Peking's latest ultimatum, demanding dismantling of Indian border posts along the Tibet border, came as India was reported ready to accept the United Nations ceasefire in its war with Pakistan if Pakistan also accepts it. The Pakistani president was believed preparing Pakistani public opinion for acceptance.

ENTER AT PASS

The Gangtok dispatch said the Chinese entered Sikkim, an Indian protectorate, at the pass 50 miles from Gangtok and reached a well-demarcated point marked out by a pillar inside the international border. It was here the Chinese came to escort the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru through Chinese-held Tibet on his 1958 visit to Bhutan.

The Indian Defense Ministry also reported the fighting. A spokesman called the action minor but said, "It has the potential of something bigger." He said there was no report of casualties. "They fired a few shots and we fired back."

AMERICANS OUT

A Karachi dispatch said more than 1,600 Americans, mostly women and children and including some sick, had been evacuated from Pakistan since the undeclared war started. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said another 500 remained in East Pakistan from which 485 were evacuated yesterday.

There has been no word whether Pakistan has replied to the Security Council demand. It was announced in Rawalpindi last night that Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto will leave for New York later today to discuss the cease-fire resoltuion.

Shastri's aides were reported warning him against accepting the U.N.'s additional request that he order India's armed forces to fall back to positions held on Aug. 5 before the war over the disputed state of Kashmir intensified. A similar call has gone out to Pakistan.

India claims the only reason it thrust into West Pakistan was to destroy bases being used to mount assaults against Indian territory. Shastri's aides said that to fall back now would mean a sacrifice of hard-won gains.

In Moscow Pakistan accepted in principle today an offer by Soviet Premier Aexei N. Kosygin for an Indian-Pakistan summit conference on Soviet soil,

IN UNINHABITED CABIN

Officers Inspect Missing Safe—Suspects Walk In

Bad timing in returning to where a stolen safe was cached late yesterday resulted in arrest of three men by sheriff's officers.

The suspects' misfortune was compounded by the finding of loot from yet another burglary in their car, deputies said.

Booked in county jail for investigation of burglary and possession of stolen goods in the theft early yesterday of a safe from Moulton Mercantile Co. in Forest Knolls were brothers Marc Torvend Ford, 18 and George Skiff Ford III, 19, both of 405 Pine Street, Sausalito, and Israel Whittaker, 21, of Lagunitas Drive, Lagunitas.

Inspector Kenneth Irving said he and Deputy Weldon Travis arrested the trio about 6 p.m. yesterday only a short time after the 650-pound safe, still unopened but with the door knob knocked off, was discovered in one of several cabins owned by Dolphin Barnett of Mill Valley, across from Lagunitas School.

Officers said the safe and a handcart used to haul it from the market were found in the unlocked and unrented cabin about 4:30 p.m. yesterday by a caretaker, Ray Abbey. The officers said the safe, covered with a matress and other bedding, had apparently been left to be battered open later.

Irving said he stepped outside ofter examining the safe, surprising Whittaker who was approaching the cabin. Whittaker inquired if a "Barbara" lived there.

Irving recognized Whittaker as a parolee from California Training Facility at Soledad and questioned him.

Nearby, the officers found the Ford brothers in a parked car. In the vehicle they found seven fishing knives, allegedly part of loot taken Sept. 13 in a burglary of Sausalito Boat and Tackle Shop at Waldo Point. Radios and tape recorders were also in the car, Inspector Irving said.

Officers said that a Independent-Journal clipping about the Sausalito burglary was found in the wallet of one of the suspects.

The latter burglary was unusual in that burglars the following day considerately returned several personal papers from the stolen safe by pushing them through the same rear window they had used for entry.

George Ford, released from California Youth Authority last November, was free today on $2,750 bail. The other two remained in jail at noon in lieu of similar bail.

Asia Tension Clouds Assembly's Opening

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General U Thant told the U.N. General Assembly today the military conflicts in Asia and the disarmament deadlock have reinforced his view that all countries—including Red China—should be represented at U.N. headquarters.

The Secretary-General said he was aware of the political difficulties of seating all governments in the United Nations, but he said he was convinced more than ever by the developments of the past year that all, at least, should be represented.

"I have no doubt," he said, "that the true interest of peace would be better served if nonmember states were to be encouraged to maintain observers at the United Nations headquarters so that they may be in a position to sense the currents and cross-currents of world opinion which are so uniquely concentrated in the organization."

NO NATIONS NAMED

He did not name the countries he had in mind, but those not represented at the United Nations include the Peking regime, North Viet Nam, North Korea and East Germany.

The assembly was not expected to deal with the China issue until later in the session, and the chances for seating the Peking government appeared slim.

Although neither the Viet Nam fighting nor the India-Pakistan war was formally before the 114-nation assembly, both were expected to be injected into the coming debates.

With the threat of a showdown on Soviet voting rights lifted, the assembly was ready to plunge immediately into its normal voting routine. The first ballots will be for the election of an assembly president, the admission of three new members, and the election of 13 vice presidents and seven committee chairmen.

GOOD OMEN

One good omen for the session was the last-minute withdrawal of the Eastern European candidate for assembly president, Koca Popovic of Yugoslavia, so that Italian Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani would have a clear field. Informed sources said the Yugoslavs wanted to avoid an Eats-West fight which might get the session off to a poor start.

U.N. diplomats are looking to the main policy statements of the United States and the Soviet Union later in the week to set the mood for the session. Goldberg is listed to speak shortly after the assembly's general debate opens Thursday. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko will address the delegates Friday.

Arden-Mayfair Mart Proposal Is Unveiled

Purchase of almost a city block in San Rafael for a new supermarket will result in removal of the city recreation center from its location in the American Legion Hall.

Arden-Mayfair Inc. of Los Angeles, one of the largest supermarket chains in the west with more than 200 stores, has bought properties totaling approximately 66,000 square feet between Third and Fourth streets and west of Union Street, including the Legion building.

Other parcels in the purchase are a 20-unit apartment building on Third Street across from the Montecito Shopping Center, owned by Wallace Marinko of San Francisco, and a duplex at Fourth and Mary streets owned by Mrs. Mabel Clayton of San Rafael. Lots on the east line of Mary Street south of the Clayton property to Third Street were not included in the sale.

The transactions, which were handled by Jerry Khan of the San Rafael office of Coldwell, Banker and Co. and Robert Nott of the San Francisco office, were said to total approximately $500,000.

Harold Valceschini, manager of Coldwell, Banker's San Rafael office, said Arden-Mayfair intends to build a 20,000-square foot supermarket on the site. Existing buildings will be razed or removed.

San Rafael City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said Arden-Mayfair has offered to donate to the city at no cost the American Legion building, to be moved across the street to city-owned property on the northwest corner of Fourth and Union streets. He said he is collecting figures on the cost of moving the building.

Mayor Bettini Presses For Study Of Charter

Appointment of a board of freeholders to consider general revision of the San Rafael city charter was proposed last night by Mayor C. Paul Bettini.

His suggestion, however, drew scant enthusiasm from the city council.

"It's a waste of time," declared Councilman Fred E. Jensen. "You get a board of freeholders, and what they come up with, the people won't pass anyhow."

Councilman Charles W. Aby declared, "I think we'd be much better off if we got rid of our charter entirely and went under general law."

City Atty. David Menary Jr. differed with that, seeing some advantages in the charter form of government.

Councilman Louis H. Baar, objecting that "we should not do this willy-nilly," felt the council should first review the charter and see whether there seems to be enough need for change to justify a board of freeholders.

Aby pointed out that revising the charter costs money. He said it would cost $5,000 to $10,000 for legal advice and other expenses of a board of freeholders.

Mayor Bettini, however, said, "I'd like to inform the public. There might be some interested citizens."

City Clerk W. C. Cornwell had one specific suggestion for change: the city election date. The charter provides for election on the second Monday in April in odd-numbered years—which is just eight days before statewide school board elections as set by state law. "This is a terrible mess," said Cornwell.

San Rafael's charter was adopted in 1912 and has been amended only slightly over the years. The last attempt at major revision was about 30 years ago.

New Optimism As Redistrict Session Opens

SACRAMENTO (AP) — As the bespectacled, black-robed judge swore in the Assembly officers for the special session dealing mainly with legislative reapportionment, the irony was lost on nobody.

For the man standing up before the reapportionment-bound lower house Monday was Roger Traynor, chief justice of the State Supreme Court. He and six colleagues were the ones who ordered the legislature to redistrict both houses by Dec. 9 or have the court put into effect a temporary two-year plan most lawmakers find unpalatable.

Down the hall in the Senate a touch of irony also was added to the routine swearing-in ceremony. As senators — many of them doomed to loss of jobs by reapportionment — watched, the job was done by a former colleague, Edwin Regan, now an appeals court justice and safely out of the clutches of political fortunes.

Lawmakers did little else during the first day of the year's third legislative session.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, switched from his previous tune and was optimistic about agreement on remapping districts in both houses on a strict population basis.

The speaker foresaw agreement in "three or four weeks. Reapportionment is really very simple if nobody will try to force concessions out of anyone else."

The upper house reapportionment leader wasn't saying much, but he put it in vivid, unprintable language. Basically, Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-Calaveras, had "no comment" on chances or details of redistricting the geography-based Senate on a population basis.

Gov. Brown and Unruh agreed on one point—approval of ratification of the proposed 25th amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Already approved by five of the needed 38 states, it sets up rules to make sure the vice presidency and presidency always are filled.

Firefighters Aided By Cool Ocean Breeze

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Only two fires burned today in Northern California and neither threatened developed properties.

Moist, cold ocean breezes moved into Sonoma County's Austin Creek area last night and discourage a once hot, troublesome timber blaze that had moved close to more houses, after burning a $200,000 lumber mill and five cabins.

A State Division of Forestry spokesman said it was hoped this blaze, one of the 265 fires that burned about 210,000 acres since last Thursday, could be contained today. About 9,000 acres had burned there.

One other fire continued to burn along a two-mile line in steep and rocky Fir Canyon of Chiles Valley, about 50 miles northeast of San Francisco in Napa County. The toll there was 16,000 acres.

Fast-moving fronts of flames had eaten through 315 square miles of grassland, woods and timber, killed 1,500 head of cattle, sheep and hogs and destroyed about 120 houses and 400 farm-type buildings. One volunteer fireman was killed in his overturned truck. The cash loss: More than $4.5 million.

Behr Revives Borate Plane Suggestion

Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom today reported to supervisors on the disastrous Chileno Valley fire of last Friday and the board ended up discussing again a proposal for high level borate bombers.

Bloom wanted especially to publicly thank fire departments that assisted his department. He listed Novato, Terra Linda, Marinwood, Fairfax, Larkspur, Alto and Tamalpais fire departments and Hamilton Air Force Base. He said there were firemen from many areas of the state as well, including men and equipment from Manteca, San Joaquin County.

Board Chairman Peter H. Behr was asked to write letters of thanks to all these departments. Then Behr revived his proposal, first aired two years ago, that the state division of forestry look into possible use of B-26 mombers for suppressing fires on high level runs.

The division of forestry was not enthusiastic about the suggestion then, saying "this is not the way it is done," Behr reported.

Fellow board members authorized Behr to make his suggestion to Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel.

Upton Appointed To Conservation Commission Post

Dr. William F. Upton today became Marin County's only representative on the San Francisco Bay Area Conservation and Development Commission.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors made the appointment unanimously, but only after Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen complained that Gov. Edmund G. Brown had "let us all down" by not appointing Upton himself, thus giving Marin a chance to appoint a second member.

The board received recommendations that engineer E. Elmore Hutchinson of Sausalito Properties Inc., and Marin Rod and Gun Club member Bernard De Bisschop of San Anselmo be named to the post. Kettenhofen said he would like to pick someone from "outside the county government family" for the job.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer said he believed Upton, of 50 Beach Drive, Bayside Acres, would be more effective simply because he has been a member of the county planning commission for several years.

Rusk Reiterates U.S. Viet Stand Firmly Committed

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk warned world communism anew today that the United States is firmly committed to supporting South Viet Nam.

"We have a solemn commitment to support South Viet Nam against aggression," Rusk said. "We intend to carry out that commitment."

Rusk spoke at the 147th Founders Day celebration at Maryville College which conferred on him an honorary doctor of laws degree.

The secretary said the world is in what he called a "turbulent situation."

The South Viet Nam conflict, he went on, is very serious. But he said the United States is exploring various avenues for reaching a peaceful settlement in the Southeast Asian country.

Practice Bomb Hits Barracks

MODESTO (AP) — A practice bomb dropped by a Navy attack bomber slammed through a Stanislaus County prison camp barracks last night, narrowly missing several prisoners lounging in their bunks.

The camp is located about 35 miles west of Modesto and only four miles northwest of a bombing range used by the Navy. There were 35 prisoners in the barracks when it was hit.

Lt. Walter Ward, officer in charge of the Crows Landing Naval Auxilliary landing field, said the 25-pound bomb, a 30-inch-long device containing only a marking charge to emit a puff of smoke, fell or was dropped from "a light attack bomber."

Negro Church Burned At Fort Lauderdale

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—A Negro Church here was gutted by fire this morning and officials called it a definite case of arson. The smell of gasoline and kerosene hung heavy in the air.

No one was injured in the pre-dawn blaze at the Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church, located in a predominantly Negro section just outside the city limits.

Gas Campaign To Be Launched

San Geronimo Valley Assn. last night decided to launch an all-out campaign for homeowners' support for piping natural gas into the valley.

So far about 318 residents have indicated they are willing to allow the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to survey their property for the service, Stanley R. Frederick, recording secretary, said today.

At least 640 householders must sign-up before gas can be piped in. Deadline for signatures is next January.

"We sent 940 forms out and have decided the person-to-person idea is the only way we can chase up the discrepancy," said Frederick.

Grand Jury Is Told Of Assess Payoff

OAKLAND (AP)—A property tax consultant says he paid the Alameda County assessor $8,455 for assessment reductions.

Testimony was disclosed yesterday in a grand jury transcript filed with Superior Court.

James C. Tooke, the Castro Valley consultant, said he also made payments to two of Assessor Donald E. Feragen's deputies.

The Alameda County assessor was indicted Sept. 8 on 10 counts of accepting bribes. The grand jury also indicted two of Feragen's staff — Earle Parrish, supervising auditor, and Michael J. McLaughlin, deputy auditor appraiser. They were charged with accepting bribes and grand theft — falsifying assessment records.

A San Francisco grand jury has indicted Russell L. Wolden, San Francisco assessor, on charges of conspiracy and accepting bribes.

The investigations developed from disclosures in the files taken from Tooke's office by Norman Phillips, a former employee.

Brown's Chances Held Improving

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Democrats expressed new hope today of winning a third term for Gov. Brown, now that Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel has decided against running for governor.

Kuchel's announcement yesterday removed from contention a champion campaigner who won re-election with heavy Democratic support — and in a state where the Democrats have a maojrity of the registered voters.

"It certainly drastically increases the Democrats' chances of keeping the governorship," said Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles.

"I think Sen. Kuchel has made the right decision as far as the interests of the people of California are concerned," said Brown, whose aides say will run again. He said Kuchel's seniority in the Senate is needed to protect the state's interests.

Brown's advisers have said they would prefer a race against Ronald Reagan, and Kuchel's decision has left the handsome, smiling actor the front runner for June's GOP primary.

Kuchel's announcement, however, is sure to add new fuel to the bitter rivalry between the California GOP's conservative wing and the moderates, who had favored the senator.

He said that "within our California Republican party is a fanatical, neo-fascist, political cult, overcome with a strange mixture of corrosive hatred and sickening fear, recklessly determined to overcome our party or destroy it."

"Their un-Republican dogma has no more place in our party than the odious teaching of communism."

He issued an apparent invitation to his supporters "to unite behind one candidate, untainted by extremism, and then to nominate him and elect him."

Possible Republican candidates greeted his statement in a friendly manner, saying they were happy — for California's sake — that Kuchel has decided to stay in the Senate.

Reagan said he agrees with Kuchel "with regards to neo-fascism and communism, and I am unalterably opposed to either of these philosophies."

Former Gov. Goodwin C J. Knight called Kuchel's move "a wise decision."

He said he joined with "all good Republicans in paying careful attention to Sen. Kuchel's admonitions," adding that candidates "must avoid all personal attacks and dissensions."

Former Assemblyman Joseph Shell of Los Angeles said "this was not unexpected. I suspect it's better for California to have him back in Washington with his seniority working on water problems than out here running."

Helicopter Downed By Viet Cong Fire

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. helicopter with four crewmen was shot down in North Viet Nam as it tried to rescue a downed American pilot, a military spokesman said today.

The four crewmen and the pilot were listed as missing.

North Vietnamese troops were seen heading for the pilot after he ejected from his F-105 Thunderchief yesterday, the spokesman said.

The plane was on a bombing mission at a bridge south of Vinh, 100 miles north of the border between North and South Viet Nam, when it was hit by heavy ground fire, he said.

Anti-aircraft fire also struck the rescue helicopter and drove off a second chopper, he said.

Another pilot was presumed dead after his F-105 crashed into a ridge as it pulled away from its target 50 miles southeast of Dien Bien Phu, the source said.

The two Thunderchiefs raised to four the number of planes U.S. authorities said were lost yesterday on missions against the north.

U.S. B-52 jet bombers plastered a Communist - infested zone today 330 miles north of Saigon in South Viet Nam spokesman said.

Joan Bennett Gets Divorce

JUAREZ, Mex. (UPI)—Actress Joan Bennett got a divorce yesterday from her estranged husband, producer Walter Wanger.

She appeared in Third Civil Court in this border city and then returned to a hotel in El Paso, across the Rio Grande.

Miss Bennett

"It's all done with. I got a divorce on grounds of incompatibility," she said.

Miss Bennett said she and Wanger had been married 25 years but had been separated for "the last seven or eight years."

Miss Bennett, whose sister, Constance, died in July, was one of Hollywood's biggest stars and Wanger one of the most successful of film producers when the couple wed in 1940. It was her third marriage.

"Our careers, lately, have kept us at opposite ends of the world," she said at the time.

Miss Bennett has three daughters, one by each of her husbands: Melinda by Gene Markey, Diana by John Fox, and Stephanie by Wanger.

Civilian Named For Gemini 8

Scott

Armstrong is the first civilian named to a flight crew. Scott, an Air Force major, is the first of the third group of astronauts to be chosen a co-pilot. They were announced as the Gemini 8 spacecraft crew Monday.

Scott, a ruddy-faced, 35-year-old San Antonio, Tex., native, is scheduled to float outside the cabin for at least one orbit of the earth, or about 95 minutes.

Armstrong

Plans are being made to have Scott come back into the capsule, close the hatch, go a few more orbits and then return into space again.

There is a possibility, because two umbilical cords are being taken on the flight, that Armstrong might also get out for a stroll.

Novato Man Foils Jump From Span

A young unemployed office clerk was prevented from leaping off the Golden Gate Bridge early yesterday by a bridge tow truck driver from Novato, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A southbound motorist, Harold Adank of San Bruno, saw a pedestrian at mid-span on the west side of the bridge about 1:45 a.m. Adank notified a toll collector and tow truck driver Donald H. Russell of 592 Davison Avenue, Novato, went to the scene.

As Russell approached Kenneth J. Johnson, 19, of San Francisco, the youth began to run. Russell gave chase and captured the youth, who was held until highway patrolmen arrived at 2:02 a.m.

Johnson told patrolmen he was depressed and planned to jump off the bridge. He got onto the bridge by sneaking around the west side of the toll plaza.

He was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for 72 hours observation.

Watchdog Asked For Intelligence Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, wants Congress to set up a "watchdog" committee to monitor the activities of the supersecret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

He told the Senate yesterday the CIA had "in effect been making foreign policy" and had assumed responsibilities of the President and Congress. Young said "the CIA has gradually taken on the character of an invisible government, answerable only to itself."

WASHINGTON (AP)—A collection of speeches and statements by George M. Humphrey, a powerful Washington figure in 1953-57, has been published in book form by the Western Reserve Historical Society of Cleveland, Ohio.

Humphrey was secretary of the Treasury during the first five years of the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower and he was recognized as an influential adviser to Eisenhower in other areas.

Sausalito Wants Planning Voice In Marincello Area

Sausalito city councilmen don't want any plans approved for the proposed city of Marincello without Sausalito having a hand in the planning.

At a special session last night, the council said that Marincello should be developed only in accordance with a general plan prepared jointly by city and county.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk said approval of the Marincello plan now being considered by the county planning commission "would be spot zoning of the purest type."

The council passed a resolution 4-0, asking the county to join the city in preparation of a general plan for the area lying outside, but adjacent to the city of Sausalito. The resolution cited that the proposed Marincello development would, because of its scope, circulation pattern and nature of land uses, "inevitably affect the future course of development within the city of Sausalito."

The council also requested the county planning commission to set a meeting with representatives of the city to discuss a program for preparing a general plan.

The council's resolution is scheduled to be presented to the county planning commission when it resumes its hearing on the Marincello plan at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

Councilman Melvin S. Wax was absent from the meeting, which was called to discuss planning of county areas adjacent to Sausalito, but discussed only the Marincello area.

The Paterson, N.J., native allegedly abducted Mrs. Lynne Pierce McGinn, 28, a blonde Junior Leaguer and daughter of a former New York broker from her Orrington home Thursday.

Burglars Get Scanty Loot In Two Jobs

Burglars list night struck at two next-door Tamalpais Junction firms, but apparently the loot totaled only 95 cents.

Sheriff's officers said entry to Sonny's ïce Cream and Sandwich Shop was by breaking out a rear window. The intruder went through the cash register, taking the change but leaving two $1 bills, according to Charles E. Prather, owner.

George Meyer, owner of Meyer's Cleaning and Dyeing, said his adjacent building was entered by pushing open a window. Nothing was taken. He said the burglars apparently were frightened off, since desk drawers were not ransacked.

John Thornson, 2285 Novato Boulevard, Novato, reported a $350 arc welder stolen from a workshop behind his home during the past few days.

Joseph George Gaillard of Alameda said a machinery shed at the Garzoli Ranch near Nicasio was entered, and a .33 revolver, ammunition, and a pair of binoculars taken from a small trailer within the building.

Two clocks, an electric razor, and a large quantity of kitchen items were taken from the home of Thomas James Cavanaugh on Lucia Lane in Lagunitas, officers reported. Entry was by breaking a bedroom window.

was no indication yet of an Indian reply.

This weekend Kosygin sent messages to Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistani President Mohammad Ayub Khan offering to mediate in their conflict over Kashmir and suggesting they meet in Russia.

The sources said the Pakistani reply, delivered to the Soviet Foreign Ministry today, said "Pakistan has no objection in principle" to such a meeting but would prefer to await outcome of United Nations ceassfire efforts before giving a definite answer.

About 10,000 demonstrators burned the U.S. Information Service library in Karachi today and pulled down the United Nations flag from the building.

The violence followed a general strike in the city with all shops and businesses closed to protest the U.N. resolution ordering Pakistan and India to cease fire.

Firemen and police dispersed the mob and put out the library fire.

Novato Parent Protests Win Bus Revival

Novato High School students will not have to walk across Highway 101 to go to school; they will get bus service starting tomorrow morning.

Novato Unified School District trustees approved restoring the bus service last night when approximately 40 parents protested its being dropped. The board also received three petitions with 452 signatures protesting the change.

New bus schedules and times for pickup will be worked out today and posted at the high school for tomorrow morning, said Leonel Avilla, director of transportation. He said that the pickups probably would be at Reichert and Lamont avenues; Manuel and Louis drives, the Olive School, and Olive Avenue and Chase Street.

Last June the board voted to increase from two to two and one-half miles the minimum distance for busing high school students. This meant students in the Reichert - Lamont Avenue and Olive Avenue areas must walk to school across Highway 101.

Last night's action restores the former service.

BLOWING UP A SCHOOL ROOM

Mrs. Donald Bell, teacher, points out to two of her first grade pupils, David McMullen and Ellen Weaver, the progress of what will be their school room at Old Mill School in Mill Valley. Knocked-down portable classroom is being erected by process of blowing up a huge plastic balloon inside it. Enrollment, it seems, isn't the only thing ballooning for Mill Valley schools.

Uniform Salary, Police Merger Study Sought

Marin County supervisors today asked for a study of uniform salaries for all police and firemen in the county and a study of areas of increasing efficiency and economy in policing Marin, perhaps with some consolidation or departments.

The action came after more than an hour's discussion with police chiefs and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

The county administrator's office was asked to make the salary study. The Marin County Assn. of Police Chiefs was asked to make the study of improved economy and efficiency.

The board called today's session to find out if there were some areas where a saving could be made.

Chief Kenneth H. Huck of Sausalito said a central clearing house for warrants, with the use of the county's commuter equipment, would be a great saving. He also said a central vice and narcotics bureau might be advantageous.

But he and other chiefs were against consolidating other investigative work if it would mean loss of responsibility and control of the departments.

The chiefs were all in favor of a county police academy or county - sponsored training program. They also endorsed a uniform salary schedule.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker suggested the association of chiefs also study possible contracts whereby a city such as Novato could patrol the area around it, particularly to the north. He said sheriff's deputies now have to drive through Novato to get there.

Chief Dan Terzich of Mill Valley said a recent court ruling gives an officer no authority outside his city, but supervisors thought a contract would get around this.

Three police departments not represented: Novato, San Anselmo and Fairfax.

The discussion was largely prompted by Novato Mayor Robert D. Carrow's request for a cost analysis of county police protection for his city.

The uniform salary issue has been discussed for several years without result.

Board Resolves Trustee Impasse

Marin County Board of Education last night resolved the month-long dispute over the replacement for Irving E. Levine on the Bolinas- Stinson School District Board.

Mrs. Bobbie Shockey of Stinson Beach, a former clerk and past chairman of the Stinson trustees, was appointed to fill the vacancy created in early August when Levine left the district.

At that time, the school district board split in a vote to select one of three applicents, Mrs. Shockey, Mrs. Patricia Vitella and John Barrow of Bolinas.

The question was referred to the county superintendent of Schools, Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, for a decision between the two women. The two candidates were interviewed by a three-member committee and a report was given the board in closed session.

David C. Shilts, 17, was reported as a runaway from his home at 2465 Center Road, Novato, yesterday and was still missing today, according to Novato police.

He left home about 8 a.m. and may have gone hiking or camping, his foster mother, Mrs. Estelle Trenchard, told police.

He was described as five feet one inch tall, of slight build and weighing 110 pounds. He has brown hair and brown eyes. He was wearing a beige jacket and beige pants with a dark cotton short-sleeved shirt and white tennis shoes, police reported.

Marin City Stabber Still Being Sought

Search for a Marin City man for questioning in the Saturday stabbing of Walter Lee, 25, continued today, sheriff's officers said.

Lee, of 730 Drake Avenue, Marin City, suffered a single stab wound of the chest in an argument after four men blocked his path while walking home. He said his assailant used a pocket knife.

Flood Control Agreement To Be Sought

Marin County supervisors will request a quorum of all city councils in the Ross Valley to meet with a quorum of supervisors to try to find agreement on the Corte Madera Flood Control Project.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said that $800,000 in federal funds for the job was about to "go down the drain" because the cities had not agreed to form a flood control zone to maintain the channel.

Kettenhofen said the cities can select the time and the place for the meeting.

Originally, the job would have included the entire Corte Madera Creek, but Kettenhofen succeeded in splitting the job into stages with the first work being done only from the bay up to Ross city line. This was after cities objected to concrete-lined ditches.

"We thought splitting the job was the solution, but it was not," Kettenhofen said.

Joint Talks Set On Novato Parks

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission last night set for next Thursday at 8 p.m. 2 session with the planning commission on the parks and recreation phase of the Novato master plan. The meeting will be in the community house.

The commission asked Edward Adams, director, to recommend how the city should spend $100,000 voted by the council in a 30-cent tax rate increase for parks and civic center site acquisition.

Adams reported after-school recreation programs are being held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday at Lynwood, Rancho, Marion, Olive and Lu Sutton schools.

Hub Man Resigns From Rec Board

The San Anselmo parks and recretion commission last night accepted the resignation of commissioner William Nical.

Nicol said incerased business pressures were his reason for resigning. Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro will appoint Nicol's replacement.

Commissioners also directed a letter of thanks to the San Anselmo Homes Assn. for donation of $620 for plants to landscape parking lot "A" at Tunstead Street and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

They asked A. J. Snyder Jr., director of parks and recreation, to investigate possibility of setting up voluntary medical insurance for children participating in the recreation program.

Teen-Agers Plan Dance To Aid Chile

Plans to aid victims of Chile's Aug. 8 flood were disclosed today by two youth organizations in southern Marin and by the chairman of a clothing, food and money drive.

The Mill Valley Youth Council and Southern Marin Boys Club will co-sponsor a benefit dance at 8 p.m. Oct. 1 at the community and youth center.

The Pseudos band will play and a group of Chilean dancers will perform. The dance will be for members of the two organizations and guests, plus teenagers of Sausalito.

Young people and adults are invited to take clothing, blankets, canned powdered milk or canned meat to be left at the center, co-chairman Les Mize said.

Mrs. Isabel Semolic of 135 Stanford Avenue, Mill Valley, announced that she is chairman of a drive to collect money for medicine, children's and adults' clothing, blankets, sheets, powdered milk, etc.

She said persons wishing to contribtue any of these items may leave them at Our Lady of Mount Carmel church, Mill Valley; Tamalpais and Mill Valley fire departments or at her home.

Tam Redistrict Report Gloomy

The Ross School District Board last night heard a report from Dr. Walter Way, Ross representative to the County Committee on School District Organization.

The report, according to Supt. William W. Monahan, was a "pessimistic one."

"I doubt very much that the state legislature will accept the county's proposal to divide the present Tamalpais district into three individual districts each centered around the existing high schools. I also doubt that the voters of this area will accept the state's idea of a single, unified district because of the size of the area.

Span Rail Climber's Identity Corrected

A woman who apparently tried to climb over the pedestrain guard rail of the Golden Gate Brige Saturday was erroneously identified in yesterday's Independent-Journal as Mrs. Lucy H. Meyer of Greenbrae.

She is Lucy Horstmeyer, 36, of 94 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Novato Burn Victim Condition Still Poor

Mrs. Thelma Mechin of Novato, with third degree burns over her entire body, remained in poor condition today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital.

She was rescued from her burning home at 795 Story Book Court by her husband on Friday and admitted to Novato General Hospital.

Commercial Zoning Gets Hub Approval

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night unanimously approved rezoning of three lots on the corner of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Sonoma Avenue from residential to commercial.

The applicant, Union Oil Co. also has a request before the commission for a permit for a service station on the corner, which is across Sonoma from Isabel Cook School. The commission has scheduled a hearing on that request for Sept. 27.

City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell reported that no one from the audience spoke against rezoning the property, which borders Sunny Hills Orphange land scheduled for commercial development.

The commission approved a subdivision request by Harold Sharrow to make four lots out of two on Red Hill Avenue near the Hub Intersection. Commissioners attached the stipulations that Sharrow submit a soil report and pay the city $650 for relocation of a fire hydrant.

The commission also approved a subdivision of 10 lots above The Alameda by Harry Johnson, provided he submits soil reports.

The commission denied a request by Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Knepfer of 71 San Rafael Avenue for a variance to build a six-foot front yard fence. Maximum height allowed by the zoning ordinance is four feet.

County Wonders How To Define Dog Kennel

Marin County planning commissioners yesterday tried to decide on a working definition for a dog kennel, but could reach no agreement.

They concurred, however, to discuss definitions further on Oct. 4, when a proposed revision of the ordinance on agricultural zones relating to dog kennels will be heard.

Planning director B. D. Dobbs said the owner of a half-acre lot should be allowed to keep three dogs. He suggested that for every additional half acre, another dog could be added.

Commissioner Harry H. Heifetz objected to this, saying the size of the dogs should be considered. Heifetz also urged that a distinction be made between commercial and non-commercial kennels.

"You could get 20 toy poodles in a place where you might only be able to keep one St. Bernard," Heifetz said.

Dobbs said persons wishing to run kennels with more dogs than allowed under his proposal could apply for use permits.

Commissioner Hugh Dougherty suggested that an owner would have to get a use permit to keep more than three dogs on less than three acres. Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. liked this idea, but other commissioners wanted things less precise.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Learned that L. B. Fleishman will make a new proposal with less than the original eight apartment units planned for a 10,000 square foot parcel on Tiburon Boulevard west of Bay View Heights. Commissioners at the first hearing yesterday told Fleishman that four units would be more in keeping with density level in the area. Second hearing on Fleishman's master plan for the small parcel will be Oct. 4.

2. Excused the underground utility requirement in approving the tentative map of the 24-acre, 102-lot Pleasant Valley unit 5, after learning from Engineer Carlos J. Gonzalez that the original commission approval, granted prior to adoption of the underground ordinance, had expired through a misunderstanding.

3. Set for Oct. 4 and 18 hearings on the proposal to establish an agricultural preserve including the Green Gulch Ranch in southern Marin. This would allow, through contract with the county, a lower assessment of the land. Commission chairman Felix M. Warburg said the commission will also discuss a county master plan on agricultural preserves at the hearings.

4. Set a hearing Oct. 18 on the request of Jacob Inauen and others for rezoning nine lots on the north side of San Pablo Avenue from agricultural to business-professional. The property is a block south of North San Pedro Road opposite the Marin Civic Center.

5. Continued to Oct. 4 a master plan for a residential development on the north side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard opposite Olema Street, West Fairfax.

6. Postponed until Oct. 18 discussion of rezoning for Sherman Oaks subdivision on the west side of Angela avenue on Oak Knoll Road in Sleepy Hollow. Attorney Albert Bianchi requested postponement because he had not had enough time to confer with the owners of the property.

7. Approved a tentative map for Scenic Heights subdivision No. 1, north of Eagle Rock Drive just south of Corte Madera town limits. Dunya Chernenko is subdividing about two and one half acres into four lots.

8. Adjourned at 3 p.m. until 2 p.m. tomorrow for a hearing on the Marincello master plan.

Airman Hurt In Fall From Scooter Saturday

Airman 1/c David J. Hogarth, 19, of the Mill Valley Radar Station on Mount Tamalpais, was reported in good condition today at the Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital after receiving cuts and bruises in an accident Saturday in San Rafael.

Hogarth told San Rafael police he was driving his motor scooter west on Third Street at 2:48 a.m. when he skidded and fell onto the pavement.

Long Range Drama Plans Announced

By KARL BARRON

"Project Five," a five-year production program covering five decades of American drama, has been unveiled by Festival Theater officials.

As explained by chairman of the board Jiri Hermann and artistic director Elizabeth Berryhill, the ambitious undertaking will survey American plays from the period following World War I to the present.

"With the plays of Eugene O'Neill," Miss Berryhill told a press conference "the United States began to enjoy plays in our theater by playwrights deserving to be called serious because their plays were worthy of being called literature."

The first season—1965-66—will consist of plays falling into the general category, "the American Family." Miss Berryhill said plays were not chosen because they fit into this theme, but the choice of plays, once made, suggested the theme.

Following Paulene Myers' six-performance engagement of her one-woman show — a bonus to the regular season — Festival Theater will open with Thornton Wilder's classic "Our Town" on Oct. 15. The remainder of the season will be composed of four plays from the following list: "Awake and Sing," Clifford Odets; "A Streetcar Named Desire," Tennessee Williams; "All My Sons" or "Death of A Salesman," Arthur Miller; "Raisin In The Sun," Lorraine Hansberry; "My Mother, My Father and Me," Lillian Hellman.

Although the company had originally planned Edward Albee's "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?", rights cannot be obtained, so it was dropped. (This play is considered by many critics to be a searing indictment of what's wrong with the American family of the '60s.)

In addition to the five-play season, Wilder's one-act play, "The Long Christmas Dinner" will be presented in tandem with Paul Hindemith's musical setting of the same, and the Palo Alto Community Theater will bring in its production of Norman Corwin's "The World of Carl Sandburg."

Questioned as to themes for the following four years, Miss Berryhill said none had been chosen as yet, although such ideas as "crime and punishment" have been discussed.

Hermann, asked about financial underwriting of the long-term project, said that there were promises of financial aid in addition to the $7,000 from the County of Marin.

Extending the depth of Project Five, said Miss Berryhill, will be supplemental programs including an original lecture-dramatization by members of the resident company, a drama critics' symposium, publication projects of a magazine and study guides, and a study program.

She pointed out that to her knowledge, Project Five is unique in the annals of theatrical history.

India, with a 1964 population of 468.5 million, gains and add'l 10 million people each year.

UNBELIEVABLE FLYING OBJECT?

Rex Heflin, an investigator for the Orange County highway department, claims he doesn't believe in flying saucers, but today gave the Santa Ana Register newspaper this photograph he snapped with a Polaroid camera near the Santa Ana Marine Corps Air Facility on Sept. 3, at a time when reports of unidentified flying objects were numerous throughout the West. Heflin estimated the object to be 30 feet in diameter, eight feet thick, and said it was visible for 15 seconds. (UPI Telephoto)

Supervisors Get Digs From Council

A couple of San Rafael city councilmen took a few minutes off from the more mundane business of city government last night to cast some stones at the county board of supervisors.

Councilman Louis H. Baar started it, bringing up a letter regarding the San Pedro Road widening project from Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

The letter, received prior to the Sept. 7 meeting which Baar did not attend, recited history of the joint city-county project in what Baar called distorted fashion.

"Many of these things were accomplished before Junior got on the board," declared Baar.

He then recalled that "the only reason the county went through with its half of the financing was that we said if they didn't we'd build the road four lanes wide through the city's part and they'd look stupid with a little two-lane road between."

He then slyly mentioned that "Peter Behr wrote us a letter last Jan. 11 thanking us for our fine cooperation on this, perhaps unbeknown to Mr. Leydecker."

Councilman Harry A. Barbier then decided it was his turn. His target was Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

"Kettenhofen is now an expert on the City of San Rafael," commented Barbier caustically. "The first thing he took off on was the traffic islands . . . Now I read in the I-J that he says the riot at the 'Battle of the Combos' was because someone did not play the music loud enough for the kids . . .

"I'm getting a little tired of people giving alibis for the small percentage of teen-agers who are guilty of vandalism . . . These kids know the difference between right and wrong."

Baar then took over again.

"Our board of supervisors is not satisfied with running the county," he asserted. Now they are trying to run San Francisco's newspapers. They want the Department of Justice to investigate the newspaper merger over there . . .

"I guess they're running such a fine, well-knit operation up there at the Civic Center that they just have to look elswhere for something to do."

It is the mayor's prerogative to have the last word. Mayor C. Paul Bettini had his.

"This seems to be slap-the-supervisors night," he remarked. "I enjoy their humor myself."

Connecticut Records Heavy September Rain

WINDSOR LOCKS, Conn. (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau says rainfall in Connecticut so far in September is above average.

The bureau says 2.6 inches of rain fell in the Hartford area this month. This is the highest amoung through the 19th day of any since april 1964, the bureau said.

Liberal Catholics Win Round On Liberty Clause

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Ecumenical Council registered overwhelming approval today in a preliminary vote on a declaration affirming the right of all men to religious liberty.

The long-awaited vote was 1,998 in favor of the declaration to 224 against. The vote was regarded as a great liberal victory over the council's conservative minority, which had won successive delays in the initial vote.

The large majority in favor of the declaration supported the liberal argument that most councilmen want to put the Roman Catholic Church on record as favoring freedom of worship.

Dock Employment Up

NEW YORK (AP) — The Waterfront Commission of New York harbor says dock employment in the Port of New York went up four per cent last month despite sectional job losses created by the 78-day maritime strike.

Billiard Parlor Rule Is Revised By Council

It was Permission Night at the San Rafael City Council meeting.

The council, by unanimous vote, permitted 16-year-olds to play pool in billiard parlors remaining open until 2 a.m.—the terms of a revision of the pool hall licensing ordinance.

By unanimous vote, the council permitted a second old car storage yard across Jordan Street from Davidson Junior High School.

By unanimous vote, it allowed a 105-foot radio tower for KTIM and Marin Radio Service on San Rafael Hill, which it had previously passed a resolution to prevent.

The car storage yard and the radio tower both provoked lengthy discussion. The pool hall ordinance was passed, along with two others, without a word of debate.

The car storage yard was granted L. P. Acquilino, who had appealed a second turndown of his application by the city planning commission. The council found itself without freedom of choice because of previously over-riding planning commission turndown of an identical application on the same block by Richard Isi.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini and Councilman Louis H. Baar both voiced some second thoughts about the Isi permit. Isi's promises to remove junk from the lot have not been carried out, they complained.

On Baar's motion, Acquilino's permit was conditioned with a requirement that a solid fence surround the entire lot. It is good for one year.

The radio tower—sought by KTIM for its new frequency modulation transmitter—will be on a 50-by-100 foot lot in a saddle of the hill, well away from the Easter cross that tops the eminence.

The council, seeking to prevent spread of what has already been called a "forest of antennas" on the hill, last month adopted a resolution banning any structure in excess of the 32-foot height limit within 2,000 feet of the cross until adoption of a slope policy.

After hearing Hugh Turner and Angelo Turrini in behalf of their joint application for the tower last night, councilmen agreed they should permit KTIM to go ahead. But the resolution was left in force except for a 50-by-100 foot lot where the KTIM tower will be built—thus keeping the lid on other developments.

The pool hall ordinance revision was sought by James Hambrick, who is preparing a "family billiard parlor" at 921 C Street, and was recommended by Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa. The ordinance formerly forbade anyone under 21 from entering pool halls, and provided the halls must close at 11 p.m.

Councilman Charles W. Aby moved final adoption of this ordinance revision along with an ordinance extending the underground utilities district westward along Second Street to Marquard Street, and another adopting the fire department budget. The three were enacted by one unanimous vote.

Later a hearing on underground utilities on the district extension—which is the widening of Second Street to the Miracle Mile—was set for Nov. 1. Also, another ordinance extending the underground utilites district farther east on Third Street was introduced.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Rejected the only bid on a piece of surplus city property on Bellam Boulevard. Rolla Coffland of 104 F Street, from whom the city bought the property, offered $3,750 for it—$1 per square foot, or less than half the price per square foot paid by the city for the parcel of which this is a remainder.

2. Held over to Oct. 4 final maps of Owen Subdivision and Harbor Village condominium subdivision.

3. Gave the go-ahead for drainage of much-argued Terra Linda Subdivision 24, and opened the door for approval of the subdivision map by putting it on the agenda for next meeting for reconsideration. Councilman Louis H. Baar, who was not present when the map was rejected 3-1 last time for lack of inclusion of Freitas Parkway extension, said he saw no reason for the turndown. Freitas Parkway would have to be extended by the developer of land on the other side of it, he declared, because there is no other access to that land.

4. Approved specifications for a backhoe for the public works department and called for bids to be opened Sept. 20. Councilman Fred E. Jensen objected that the backhoe the city owns has not been kept in repair and it is a waste of money to buy another. Mayor Bettini suggested the solution berhaps is "to put the mechanic under the public works department."

5. Enacted ordinances providing for limited parking zones in front of restaurants, and for revision of truck routes.

6. Introduced an ordinance which spells out that the council, not the developer, has the option of whether lend must be dedicated for a parkway or freeway when subdivided.

7. Put over to Oct. 4 introduction of an ordinance permitting some rotating signs on Fourth Street, to eliminate the three-foot size limit on the rotating portion.

8. At urging of Baar, agreed to write the State Highway Commission and Division of Highways urging an early start on the second phase of the freeway through San Rafael, and to ask State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley to "put a little heat on" for the same purpose.

9. Agreed to have the Marin Council of Community Services present its senior citizen program at a council meeting.

Courthouse Problem Means Money

In talk of what to do about the courthouse square, the big bugaboo is money.

The Marin County Development Assn. hopes to solve that.

The association's executive committee has agreed to set up a small committee to "investigate in depth the means and the potential of financing acquisition of the property by a locally controlled group."

Heading the committee is Fred F. Enemark, a past president of the association. Serving with him are Irving D. Chapman, a past president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, and Rex. T. Silvernale, also a past president of the development group.

Last night, the San Rafael City Council agreed that Mayor C. Paul Bettini may represent the city on the committee. Today, the county board of supervisors was expetced to similarly authorize service by its chairman, Peter H. Behr.

Usher To Give Report To Park Commission

The Corte Madera Parks and Recreation Commission, meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Town Hall, will hear a report from town manager. Ronald L. Usher on the implementation of requests commissioners made after touring the town's parks earlier this year.

The commission will also be given a list showing the order in which budget requests for the year will be filled.

Schoolchildren To See How The Town Works

Plans to show Corte Madera schoolchildren what goes on in town hall — and at the same time improve its image—were outlined by Mayor Edward W. Colhurst at last night's meeting of the Corte Madera Town Council.

Department heads will get together with school authorities to discuss details of the program designed to familiarize eighth grade students with local government.

Colhurst said he envisaged field tours by the children once a week to such departments as administrative, streets, fire, police and engineering.

They should spend an hour or two out on the job, said the mayor, after which they could ask as many questions as they wanted to.

"Whenever you mention public servants, everyone titters," he said. "They get a picture of a man who sits around all day without drive or ambition. They will see for themselves this is all wrong."

He added: "The minds of children are full of space nowadays but not everyone can be an astronaut.

"These tours will, I hope, show that there is just as much merit in the job of a public servant as there is in that of a lawyer, doctor or Indian chief."

Contracts totalling $5,000 were awarded to five suppliers of furniture and equipment for the new Public Safety Building due to be opened next year.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Set a public hearing for 8 p.m. Oct. 4 into an appeal by Speedee Mart, 118 Corte Madera Avenue, against refusal by the planning commission to allow erection of a free-standing sign.
2. Approved a proposal from Larkspur for a joint fall-winter recreation program and the figure of $3,311 which would be Corte Madera's share of the cost.
3. Agreed that Police Inspector Harold Hockett attend the safe and burglary investigators' annual conference, Sept. 28 at Lake Tahoe.
4. Accepted grant deeds for a strip of land on the south side of Paradise Drive from Robert C. Byrnes and Marcella R. Byrnes in exchange for carrying out improvements including a sidewalk.

Builders Get Warning In Corte Madera

Housing developers in Corte Madera who step out of line—structurally speaking—may be ordered to tear up foundations and start all over again, warned Councilman Charles F. Pendleton at last night's meeting of the town council.

"It seems to me some of these developers are getting very careless on alignments . . . We are going to be wary of this in future," he said.

The council was told Rambco Development had made an error in positioning of the foundation for a house in Mariner Highlands. As a result, the distance between the house and the sideline of the lot was a little over three feet instead of the required seven and one-half feet.

Rambco asked the council to change the line position of the next lot to make good the loss of four feet. It was granted. A letter from the company apologized for the error and said the superintendent of the construction had been fired.

Sooner or later, said Pendleton, developers will be told to tear out buildings—and bear the loss themselves—if they do not exercise sufficient care.

Bulldozer Operators Win Praise For Fighting Fires

By FRANK FARRARA

Contractors and bulldozer operators don't sleep at the firehouse, but they are as much "on call" when major brush fires break out as firemen.

Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom yesterday praised the contractors and their men who were called into action last week to battle the series of brush fires that swept through Sonoma and Napa counties and into Marin.

"They have never received recognition for what they have done," Chief Bloom said.

He said he has at county fire headquarters in Woodacre, a list of contractors who are available in an emergency.

"I just contacted Frank Merz (Frank G. Merz Jr. of Merz Brothers, San Rafael) and he did a terrific job, rounded up about 15 cats, dispatched them, handled the whole thing," Chief Bloom said.

Bloom said contractors have to shut down their own jobs when they send equipment out on fires. They also lose money because they have to pay any overtime involved in fighting fires, he said. Under the Division of Forestry schedule, equipment operators are paid only for straight time. "If there is overtime, the contractor has to shell out," Bloom said.

Marin County will pay for work done at Chileno Valley last week, including an hourly rate for equipment, he said.

Chief Bloom also commended Nello Marcucci, fire coordinator for civil defense in Marin County, who rounded up tanker trucks from as far as Turlock and Tracy, and Jerry Freiss of Novato, who got transports for the large bulldozers.

Chief Bloom said he had "nothing in writing" with the contractors on fire duty, just a list compiled from contractors."

Merz, president of the North Bay Excavating, Grading Contractors Assn., said there has been some confusion about the fire-fighting procedure for contractors. "We have our civil defense and disaster committee working on it now," he said.

Merz said that he wound up yesterday with no equipment because he sent it all out on fire fighting.

"We have to compensate for overtime, according to the union, and even the state law requires overtime," he said. All overtime for operating engineers is paid at double the straight time rate, he added.

Merz said he had crews on San Rafael's Black Canyon fire last year, and hasn't been paid yet.

Coed Defends Father At Shooting Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Shirley Dian O'Neal, 19, came to court on the arm of her father, Police Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal, to testify in his defense—by telling a jury how she was lured to a house and raped by a gang of young men.

Miss O'Neal, a college student, told the jury yesterday she was selling cookbooks door-to-door when a youth persuaded her to enter a home in suburban Northridge on the pretext that his uncle wanted to buy one of the books.

Instead, she said, she was attacked by five men.

Lt. O'Neal, it was testified by fellow officers, shot and wounded Carl E. Norman, 20, July 2 at a police station where he was helping round up youths suspected of complicity in the rape. Norman, cleared on any connection with the attack, subsequently recovered.

O'Neal, 41, who was suspended after the shooting, is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

In another nearby courtroom a jury is being selected to try five men whom police say Miss O'Neal identified as her attackers. They are being tried on rape and conspiracy charges.

New Watts-Type Flareup Feared

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rioting could break out again, says Negro congressman Augustus F. Hawkins (D-Los Angeles).

"If my mail is any indication, the race bigots are working overtime," Hawkins told newsmen yesterday after he testified in a closed session of the McCone Commission, which is investigating the Watts disorders.

Hawkins said basic causes of the riots included law enforcement methods, failure to implement anti - poverty programs, and worsening of housing and schools in the Watts area.

Fire Sweeps Fair

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Wind-fed flames swept through the Tennessee State Fair Grounds last night destroying three main exhibit-filled buildings and sending thousands of opening night spectators fleeing in fright. An early morning count showed 18 persons received hospital treatment.

Servicemen's Insurance Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved a group life insurance plan under which servicemen could buy a $10,000 policy for an estimated $2 a month.

The measure was passed on a 360-0 vote and sent to the Senate.

The program would be handled by commercial insurance companies with the premiums deducted automatically from the pay of those participating. The federal government would pay extra hazard costs.

The plan would cover all members of the uniformed services.

Utility Pole Draws Neighbor's Attack

Manuel Gomez asked the Mill Valley City Council last night if it slipped up in allowing a utility pole on Corte Madera Ridge in Scott Highlands "like asparagus in the Texas desert."

Gomez said he understood all utilities were to be put underground.

Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon said the ordinance merely provided the council might require underground utilities.

When Gomez objected that he had been forced to put utilities undergroun in his adjoining subdivision, Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks exclaimed: "We don't have to listen to Mr. Gomez making speeches. Now sit down and shut up. If the mayor won't tell you to shut up, I will."

Mayor Michael Wornum banged his gavel. Gomez sat down.

Another citizen, Coleman Fitzgerald, arose, said, "I commend you all on this discussion that Mill Valley has so we can all get up and say what we want to say." Then he sat down too.

Mill Valley Told Ridge Is A Tinder Box Peril

Calling the North Ridge "a tinder box," Dr. Alfred Ryder last night asked the Mill Valley City Council to consider installing a water tank there and working with Marin Municipal Water District for better fire protection.

Ryder, who lives on the Corte Madera (or north) ridge, said he has his own 5,000-gallon water tank but, "if a tremendous fire came, my tank wouldn't be enough."

The city council was sympathetic but delayed any action.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1 Approved the 1964-65 audit report submitted by Frederic D. Kerr and agreed to hire Cooper and Kerr, San Rafael, to audit city books for 1965-66. Kerr reported budget control much improved over previous years and said he believes the amount of work in the accounting department does not warrant expenditure for an accounting machine.

2. Awarded a $23,809 contract to Maggiora, Ghilotti and Madsen, Corte Madera, for Lomita Drive sanitation, sewer and water main construction, subject to Marin Municipal Water District assuming $1,000 of the cost.

3. Awarded a $3,780 contract to All Bay Construction Co., Concord, for Sutton Manor lift station improvements.

4. Awarded a $37,077 contract to Ghilotti Brothers, San Rafael, for golf course-clubhouse parking lot improvements.

5. Introduced an ordinance rezoning an area between West Blithedale Avenue and Hillside and Oakdale avenues from interim duplex to single family residential.

6. Granted a use permit for a coin-operated car wash for Harold W. Clements at 434 Miller Avenue. Councilman Albert E. White voted "no," saying he sees on reason for Mill Valley to become "the coin-operated car wash capital of California."

7. Voted to zone 137 acres of North Ridge annexation as planned residential, but agreed to wait two weeks to introduce an ordinance zoning 206 acres of Alto Bowl No. 1 annexation as interim residential, with 15,000 square feet per lot minimum.

8. By 3-2 vote, White voting "no" and Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks abstaining, granted William Eberhart a permit to operate used car lot and car rental agency at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto, and by 4-0 vote, Sheeks abstaining, granted Mobil Oil Co. a use permit to expand Eberhart's existing service station.

9. Agreed to prohibit northbound traffic from entering Azalea Drive from Camino Alto and to install crosswalks at Hollyhock and Aster courts.

10. Accepted Mayor Michael Wornum's appointment of Councilman George E. Wickham and Wornum to a joint council-chamber of commerce government relations committee.

11. Recommended to Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen that Wickham be appointed to serve on the Marin County Transit District board.

12. Agreed to retain Thomas Sooke and Paul Sedway, San Francisco, and Warren Jones and Associates, Berkeley, as planning consultants for use of federal government Title 701 planning funds for the city.

13. Requested county cooperation for a joint study of extension of Miller Avenue to Highway 101.

Orchid Societies Set Three-County Show

The annual Tri-County Orchid Show, sponsored by the orchid societies of Marin, Santa Rosa and Napa Valley, will be held Oct. 2 and 3 in the exibition building on the Napa Town and Country Fairgrounds.

Gerald E. Misner, chairman of the Marin Republican Central Committee, announced it will be a no-host cocktail reception. "Republicans and any other constituent who wants to meet the congressman is invited to drop in," he said.

On Thursday noon, Congressman Clausen is scheduled to speak at a luncheon of the Redwood Empire Assn. at Flamingo Hotel, Santa Rosa.

United States astronauts spend 50 hours a week for two to five years training for a single flight.

CITY COUNCIL COFFEE BREAK OUT OF ORDER

There was no coffee at the Mill Valley City Council's coffee break last night — the mayor's wife took back the pot.

When the council instituted coffee breaks at its meetings a year ago, Mayor Michael Wornum's wife lent a coffee pot. But, said the mayor, she eventually decided the temporary loan was becoming too permanent, and seized her coffee pot.

'It behooves the city to buy its own," said Wornum.

Boyd Park Facelifting Under Way

Work has started on a complete renovation of the lower portion of Boyd Park in San Rafael.

The project, being done by city park crews, will result in a greatly expanded playground area and an adjacent picnic grounds designed to handle 150 to 200 picnickers.

Park Director Joseph R. Rodota said the park will reopen in two to three weeks, but work will continue for three more weeks.

The original layout of the park was not efficient, Rodota said. With the new arrangement the play apparatus area will be about three times its former size and a large picnic area will be next to it.

The small family picnic areas scattered over the hillside will remain for people who want to stay away from the crowds, Rodota said.

The project, approved last spring by the San Rafael Park and Recreation Commission, will cost about $3,000. Preliminary work on the park started in the summer, when youth work employees helped remove a log cabin from the site of the new city hall to the park.

More Criticisms Against Casady

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Democrats have added their voice to the party outcry against statements by the head of the big volunteer California Democratic Council.

The 49 lower house Democrats caucused yesterday and the chairman, Assemblyman George Danielson of Los Angeles, later said they "disassociated" themselves from remarks by Simon Casady.

Casady's critical comments on President Johnson's Viet Nam policies and burning of draft cards have angered office holders all the way up to Gov. Brown.

Only a few assemblymen opposed the caucus position, Danielson reported.

Santa Rosan Injured On Back-County Road

Reece R. Clark Jr., 37, of Santa Rosa, suffered minor injuries at 9:45 p.m. Sunday when the eastbound car he was driving overturned on the Point Reyes-Petaluma Road, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Clark was driving two and one-half miles west of the Sonoma County line when he swerved his car, reportedly to avoid an oncoming vehicle. It hit the right shoulder and rolled over. He refused hospital treatment.

Hooded Trio Beat Up, Rob San Anselmo Man

Three hooded men attacked and robbed a 47-year-old San Anselmo man at his secluded home early today.

Lloyd Denfeld of 600 Oak Avenue walked into the San Anselmo police station at 5:30 a.m. and said he had been beaten about the face, kicked in the ribs, bound, gagged, and threatened with a knife at his throat four hours earlier.

Denfeld said he was awakened at about 1:30 a.m. by his dogs barking in the front yard. He got up, turned on the porch light and stepped outside. He described what happened next:

"I saw two men with light colored hoods over their heads out in the front yard. The next thing I knew, another man grabbed me from behind and I grappled with him."

Denfeld managed to pull the man's hood off before his partners rushed in and threw him to the ground.

"They beat me on the face and kicked me in the ribs," he said. "It was like something out of a nightmare."

Denfeld, who lives alone, said that while the men pummeled him, he yelled for help. His house, though, is in a wooded and remote area. The nearest neighbor lives 300 yards away and no one heard his cries for help.

When Denfeld's shouts became too loud and persistent, the men dragged him into the house, shut the door and continued the beating, he related.

He said one of them put the blade of a knife to his throat and said:

"Shut up or we'll kill you!"

The robbers bound his hands and feet with neckties they found in the house.

After they left, he managed to work his hands and feet free. When he tried to call the police, he found the telephones wires had been cut.

He said he delayed going to the police station "because I was so scared."

He said the man whose hood he managed to pull off was about 25 years old, hand blond hair, stood five feet nine inches tall and weighed about 175 pounds.

In addition to the money, he said, the men took two radios, a pair of binoculars, a portable typewriter, an electric skillet, a toaster, shotgun, movie projector, wrist watch, silver service for eight, and a painting.

Electricity Sets Novato Unit Blaze

When electricity was turned on in a new apartment at 815 Diablo Avenue, Novato, at 3 p.m. yesterday, a short-circuit set fire to the attic, Fire Chief George J. Cavallero reported.

A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. crew had just installed the electrical meter and was installing the base meter in the last of the 12 apartments when the fire broke out. They immediately shut off the power to the unit and called the fire department.

Eugene McGillicuddy, owner, said damage to the building and the apartment rented by Ronald Busber and Mark Blos would amount to approximately $1,500.

Residents of the other 11 apartments were given accommodations in the Lodge until the electricity could be turned on today, McGillicuddy said.

Lagunitas Trustees To Study Crowding

A shortage of two classrooms will be the most pressing problem before the Lagunitas School Board when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the all-purpose room of Lagunitas School.

The school has about 50 more pupils than anticipated, said Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff. The overpopulation is concentrated in the third grade and kindergarten classes, he said.

New Tragedy Dogs Mother Of Dead Baby

SAN LEANDRO (AP) — Mrs. Robert Mackowiah of San Leandro spent most of the day writing notes to thank friends for letters of sympathy.

Her daughter, Leanne Michele, 4 months, had died of natural causes Sept. 8.

Mrs. Mackowiah finished writing yesterday afternoon, put her other child, Lisa Marie, 2, into her crib and went to mail her notes at a nearby mailbox.

When she returned home, she said, she found the child was not in the crib. The bathroom door, which the child had just learned to operate, was locked shut.

The frantic mother broke a window and found the child face down in the bathtub which the mother said she had filled to soak clothes. The child was dead upon arrival at a hospital.

Club Pledges To Maintain Future Park

The Kiwanis Club of Southern Marin last night offered to develop and maintain a green belt in Blithedale Canyon if the City of Mill Valley approves a proposed "cluster development" by William S. Allen of Sausalito.

"I think that is a noble offer and a good gesture on the club's part," said Mayor Michael Wornum.

However, canyon residents had asked for a two-week continuance and owner Allen had agreed, so a public hearing on the development was continued.

Allen seeks to build 15 single-family homes in a cluster grouping with a 12-acre buffer of open area surrounding them. Entrance and exit would be via Manzanita Place.

Robert Scott, spokesman for neighbors in the area, told the council a plan for a road, different from Allen's access plan, will be presented at the next council meeting.

Allen said he is willing to do something about improving the narrow West Blithedale Avenue and proposed to contribute either $250 or $500 for each of the 15 lots if matching funds came from residents. The money might be used to provide turnouts for vehicles.

Dean Rhoades, Allen's engineer, briefly explained the park proposal, saying if the city accepted the 12 acres as a park, the Kiwanis Club, of which he is a member, would maintain it as a "green belt." A letter was read from club president Perry Smith, also making the offer.

Cargo Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Maritime Union is seeking a court order to require that all military cargo headed for South Viet Nam be carried in American-flag vessels.

Novato Schools Crowded; More Teachers, Rooms Due

Novato Unified School District trustees facing an overcrowded school situation, last night voted to hire more teachers and continue leasing portable classrooms.

Trustees authorized hiring one kindergarten, one first grade and as many high school teachers as necessary to keep classes at 26.

They authorized another year's lease on a portable classroom now at Loma Verde School, and ordered it moved to Lu Sutton School, at a cost of $1,600.

Trustees also ordered construction before next school year of six regular classrooms and one kindergarten room at Lu Sutton and the same at Pleasant Valley School. This will give each of these schools three kindergartens and 18 classrooms.

The board previously authorized construction of a kindergarten and a 12-classroom school at Hamilton Air Froce Base.

Supt. James G. Bunker reported htat classrooms under construction at Loma Verde and Pleasant Valley schools should be completed this week.

"With hiring of the new teachers, all 29 children on the waiting list for kindergarten should be in school next week," Bunker said.

Asst. Paul Mobley reported that there were 5,956 pupils in the elementary schools; 1,381 in the junior high schools, and 1,931 in the high school.

The Novato School District Board Also:

1. Accepted as completed: the high school gymnasium and library; six classrooms and multipurpose room at Rancho School; multipurpose room at Lu Sutton School; the five classrooms addition to West Novato School; the six classrooms addition to San Jose Junior High School; the six-room addition to Loma Verde School.

2. Approved applying the $78,521 which the old San Jose District brought into the new district to the $369,377 in old school bonds of the two districts. This will speed the payment of these old bonds by one year, paying them off in two years instead of three, Asst. Supt. Eugene De Brecht said.

3. Hired Grace Dinublio as typist clerk at the administration office.

Two-Car Collision Injures Little Boy

A 3-year-old San Rafael boy suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision at 12:20 p.m. yesterday on Lucas Valley Road about 40 feet north of the 101 Drive-in Movie entrance.

Cars driven by Mrs. Barbara B. Shaw, 33, of 53 Mount Whitney Road, San Rafael, and Frank R. Maxwell, 47, of 100 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, sideswiped, the California Highway Patrol reported. Steven Shaw, 3, riding with his mother, was to be taken to the family physician for treatment of minor injuries. The drivers were unhurt.

Tips On Escapees Don't Pan Out

Several tips, by people who thought they saw two escaped murderers from San Quentin Prison, have not panned out, Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today. No new tips have been received since Sunday.

The killers, Jimmie L. Bushbaum, 29, and Arthur G. Jones, 32, escaped Thursday over the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge in a stolen car. They were serving sentences for slaying a San Bernardino County man during a robbery.

Park said that reports from Sacramento and Novato that the men had been seen proved unfounded. He added that the stolen auto used in the escape still has not been found.

June 21 Accident Victim, 19, Dies

Nineteen-year-old Sandra W. Janas of Marin City, who suffered a broken neck in an automomobile accident in Strawberry June 21, died last night at Marin General Hospital.

She had been in an intensive care unit since the accident. She had had three operations and was to undergo a fourth.

An autopsy will be performed at Russell and Gooch Mortuary.

Miss Janas, who died at 6:05 p.m., was the 21st traffic fatality this year in Marin County. There were 31 traffic deaths in the county to Sept. 21 last year.

She was riding in a car driven by airman 1/c George W. Randolph, 23, of Santa Rosa, which rolled off Strawberry Drive in the vicinity of Harbor Point Club and landed upside down. Miss Janas was trapped in the car. She was rescued by firemen who cut through a chain link fence against which the car stopped. Randolph was uninjured.

Miss Janas was a student at Hansell Associates Secretarial School in San Rafael and was to be graduated on the Monday following her accident. She was entered in the Marin County work training program at Hansell's.

She had lived all her life in Marin City, residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Janas, at House 114.

Janas is an electrician at Todd's ship yard, San Francisco, and Mrs. Janas works in the dietry department at Marin Rehabilitation Convalescent Hospital, Tiburon.

Miss Janas is also survived by three sisters, Gloria Johnson of Sausalito and Joyce Deliso and Barbara Smith, of San Francisco, and her maternal grandfather, Silas Lockett, of East St. Louis, Ill.

She was graduated from Tamalpais High School in June 1964. She played violin in the Tamalpais orchestra and was a member of the Girls' Athletic Assn. She was also a member of St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church, Marin City.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. Friday at the Presbyterian Church, Marin City. Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma. Friends may call at the Frank J. Keaton Mortuary, Sausalito.

Supervisors Request Report On Gallinas

Marin county supervisors today asked a report from the county counsel's office on the board's responsibility over the Gallinas Valley Community Services District.

Albert R. Borden of 707 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, appeared before the board to complain of lack of action on complaints he raised against the district.

He charged several violations of state law in the conduct of the district in the last 10 years. These included alleged violation of the Ralph M. Brown Act which forbids secret meetings, and misuse of public funds.

Borden said he took these charges to both the county counsel and district attorney without any result a month ago.

"There seems to be a division of opinion in that district," Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said.

Borden would not cite any specific case of violation, even, when pressed for more information by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Board Asks State Study Of Ferry Boat Commuting

Marin County supervisors today, at the instance of Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, asked for a study of ferry boats as a partial solution to the commuter problem.

Supervisor Storer argued that ferry boats make more sense than a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge or a new bus system.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said there is no one solution to the commuter problem.

Supervisor William Gnoss said, "you will have to find parking for 5,000 to 8,000 cars at the ferry slips."

"What's wrong with that?" supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen asked. "They're all parking on the Golden Gate Bridge right now."

Behr said a system of feeder buses would be needed to make a ferry system work.

The board was unanimous in requesting E. R. Foley, chief engineer for the State Division of Bay Toll Crossing, to include ferry boats in study of crossings between Marin and San Francisco.

Tam Trustees Purchase More School Land

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night authorized purchase of another three acres toward a Tiburon high school site, for $50,000.

The land is owned by Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church. The school district filed suit to condemn it in April, 1964, but the $50,000 price was agreed on out of court.

The purchase gives the district five acres toward what is planned as a 51-acre high school site. Two acres in five small parcels were purchase in the spring of 1964 at total cost of $40,000.

The remaining 45 acres is in ownership of 139 persons as a trusteeship. Condemnation suit to obtain it was filed last year btu no trial date has yet been set. The land is off Trestle Glen Boulevard east of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel.

The district board last night renewed, "under protest," membership in the California School Boards Assn. Cost had gone up from $400 last year to $819 this year.

Tauer, of 38 Strawberry Circle, Strawberry Manor, was released by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. on his own recognizance. Edwards, of 135 Drake Avenue, Marin City, remained in county jail at noon today in lieu of $2,750 bail.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Abbett Goes Into Real Estate; Heart Assn. Due Day's Receipts

Two months ago E. B. (Gene) Abbett of San Rafael sold out his electronic supplies house on Jacoby Street, and has now gone in the real estate business.

He is in charge of the new Point Reyes Station office of Seashore Realty (formerly Stinson Beach Realty) owned by realty broker Thomas R. Tawns. Tawns' other offices are in Stinson Beach and Bolinas.

Abbett's former business was purchased by Miller's Radio and TV, headquartered in Oakland and now goes under that name. The company has several other branches. Robert Clever of Novato, who was with Abbett about eight years is manager. Also in the office is Robert Stager of San Rafael, formerly with Miller's in Oakland. The company wholesales radio and television parts.

NEW ASSISTANT MANAGER at Wells Fargo Bank's Mill Valley office is Monte J. Robinson, former personnel officer in charge of administering the bank's management training program. He joined Wells Fargo in 1950 and was assigned to the personnel division at the head office in 1962.

Hart W. Corbett is new assistant manager at the bank's offices in the Northgate Shopping Center. He joined Wells Fargo three years ago and has recently been a credit officer in the Petaluma office.

Robinson Corbett

CHEERS for Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wishart of Mill Valley, who will donate the entire day's proceeds from their new Village Coin-o-matic Laundry in Strawberry Town and Country Village next Saturday (grand opening day) to the Marin chapter of the Heart Assn.

More than this—one day each month the Wisharts will pick a Marin chapter of some other charity organization to receive that day's proceeds.

Lanning Wilks

L. KEITH LANNING of Marinwood has been appointed advertising manager for California Redwood Assn. and will work in conjunction with the association's advertising agency, Honig, Cooper and Harrington. He was previously account executive on the Hills Bros. Coffee account at N. W. Ayer and Son, San Francisco, and before that an account executive at McCann-Erickson Co., San Francisco.

JEFF WILKS of Sausalito has joined Cunningham and Walsh, Inc., San Francisco, as art director. He was art director for Richard N. Meltzer Advertising, San Francisco, and also with Compton Advertising here and J. W. Robinson Co., Los Angeles, in a similar capacity. For three years he was a design instructor at San Francisco Academy of Art.

A NEW UNIT of Cobb Development Co.—Pine Summit Estates No. 3—has been opened for public inspection in the Cobb Valley area of Lake County where many Marinites have "second homes."

The new subdivision is adjacent to Hoberg's Resort and property owners have the use of Hoberg's recreational facilities. Homesites are large, pine-studded mountain lots, with some of them on level ground. The Cobb company has been developing land in the area since 1954. One office is located adjacent to the Hoberg-Forest Lake golf course, and another is at Hoberg's.

CLEVER DISPLAY of carvings of birds and fish at Griffith Books in Larkspur is that of young Howard Wheatley Allen, architectural student at University of California, and oldest son of real estate broker Charles (Howdy) Allen. The latter says he started Howard at an early age on wood carving—almost a bygone art these days.

Uptrend In Stocks Hits Snag

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed irregularly lower today in heavy trading.

Profit taking overtook many recent favorites.

Blue chips backed away as the list presented a confused picture of erratic gains and losses.

The recent strong uptrend seemed to have hit a snag but there was no wholesale rush to sell.

National Airlines, helped by a stock split, was up about 2. IBM added 2 and Du Pont a fraction.

General Motors and U.S. Steel were 1-point losers. Chrysler lost a fraction.

Volume for the day was estimated at 8 million shares compared with 7.$5 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point peppered the list of key stocks.

Airlines, oils, electrical equipments and rails were up. Steels, motors, aerospace issues, tobaccos and mail order-retails declined.

Selected issues were prominent. SCM Corp., after a long delay in opening, rose 1¾ to 36½ on a block of 75,000 shares.

Magnavox, which has had a strong run up like SCM, sank nearly 2 on profit taking. Fairchild Camera also succumbed to profit taking, losing more than a point.

Strong buying boosted KLM Airlines well over a point. United Air Lines climbed nearly 2.

Losses of about a point were taken by General Motors, U.S. Steel, Union Carbide and American Can.

Mead Corp., thanks to a single block of 105,000 shares, was the afternoon leader on volume, trading unchanged.

Up about 2 points were such stocks as IBM, Polaroid, Chicago & North Western preferred and Great Northern Paper.

Gains of a point or so were scored by Admiral, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, U.S. Smelting, Du Pont, Chicago & North Western common, Gulf & Western, Chicago Great Western, Joy Manufacturing, Bucyrus-Erie and Belco Petroleum.

Prices were irregularly higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Another Bat Attack—Pitcher Conked

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pedro Gonzalez was mad, but he says he didn't know he had the bat in his hand when he went after Detroit pitcher Larry Sherry in the fifth inning last night.

Sherry, coming in after Fred Whitfield rapped a run-scoring double to give the Indians 4-1 lead, had thrown a couple of balls inside, and Gonzalez thought they were a little too close.

The way a contrite Gonzalez told it after the game, "The first pitch was close. He (Sherry) looked at me and called me a dirty name. Then the next pitch was close again.

"One pitch is all right. Sometimes one pitch can get away. But not two. They were fast balls here — at my face," Gonzalez said.

Sherry denied the charges vehemently and called Gonzalez "a liar." His teammates and Manager Charlie Dressen raised the cry for a stiff penalty.

"Gonzalez should be thrown out of baseball for a year," said Dressen. "This stuff has got to stop, or else change the name of the game, give everybody bats and let 'em go at it."

"These Latins have to be taught a lesson," said Dressen, referring to a recent incident in the National League in which Juan Marichal hit John Roseboro with a bat. Marichal was suspended for eight games and fined $1,750. Gonzalez is from the Dominican Republic.

"Sherry didn't do a thing," said Hank Aguirre, the man Sherry had gone in to relieve. "It was a clear case of assault and battery."

Sherry insisted that Gonzalez not only was trying to hit him but succeeded in doing it — "right here!" he said, pointing to his left shoulder.

Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts was quick to Gonzalez' defense. "Both pitches were close enough where I would have thought he was throwing at me," said Birdie. "I would have gone after the pitcher myself."

But Tebbetts said Gonzalez told him he did not know he had the bat in his hands when he charged Sherry on the mound.

Press box observers said it looked as though Sherry backed safely out of the way when Gonzalez swung at him. The two did grapple but were separated as players from both teams swarmed to the pitcher's mound.

NEW GOLF COURSE IS NOW OPEN TO PUBLIC

The brand new San Geronimo National Golf Course at San Geronimo officially opened to the public today following a press preview tournament yesterday.

Greens fees are $3 on weekdays and $5 on weekends until the course clubhouse is completed early next year, at which time rates will be hiked to $4 and $6, according to professional Tom McHugh. The 18-hole course measures 6,507 yards and can be lengthened to 6,784 yards for championship play. Par is 35-37—72.

Giants Talk Pennant: 'Five More And We're In'

Got Your Series Ducats Yet? 49ers, Irish Really Bear Down

AN EMPLOYEE at San Rafael Post Office yesterday morning said: "If the Giants just accepted the World Series applications mailed through this office today there would be enough to fill two stadiums."

THE WEEKEND football results may have surprised many people, but any hunter could have told you that Notre Dame would wallop Cal and the 49ers would trounce Chicago over the weekend. If you'll refer to page 24 of the 1965 California Hunting Regulations you'll see that bear season officially opened Saturday, Sept. 18 and after Saturday's game against Notre Dame there's a new four-letter word prominent on the Cal campus: "OUCH!"

THE ART SCHALLOCKS' daughters had an unusually large number of young friends visiting them over the weekend. The Schallocks, you see, were hosts to TV actor Clint Eastwood of the "Rawhide" series, here for the golf Tourney of Stars.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY from Jim "Mr. Magoo" Backus: "The family that bowls together—usually splits."

IF YOU think today's boxing championship is muddled, you should have seen the confusion back in the 1930s, ex-middleweight champ Freddie Apostoli told a gathering of 500 friends last night at his testimonial dinner at the Fairmont Hotel.

There were so many contenders and so many different versions of "title fights," said Apostoli, "that we didn't know who we won the title FROM, just who we lost it TO."

Proving as adept at the mike as he was in the ring, Apostoli added, "I think I was recognized as champion in 13 states, Europe, Africa and the bottom of the Red Sea."

When asked by master of ceremonies George Ruge when he decided to retire from boxing (back in the late 40s), the ex-Fairfax resident quipped: "When the other guy was beating the hell out of me. I walked across the ring and raised the other guy's hands. That's how I hung 'em up."

Some 500 persons paid $12.50 per plate to honor Apostoli, now 52. The audience included Young Corbett, whom Apostoli lost to then beat in two memorable battles in the ring, and scores of other boxing figures. Joe DiMaggio and Lefty O'Doul also were "ringsiders." Among the Marinites I spotted in attendance were Nick Kobseff and Glen Kerch of Rancho Nicasio, Hector Rubini of San Rafael Joe's, Al Nieri, Ray Harrison, Dick Hamilton, Dante Tognoli, Joe Ingrassia and Lou Magliulo.

Stanford In For A Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stanford's versatile offense faces a rugged defense Saturday with the invasion of Navy.

Stanford coach John Ralston is the one who says so and adds that his scout, Dutch Fehring, reported the Middies showed as fine a defensive performance last Saturday as he's seen in an opening game.

Navy lost to Syracuse 14-6 but had five passes intercepted and lost the ball once via fumble in a key situation.

Preparing for the invasion of the Middies, Ralston plans no lineup changes but will try to see that halfback Ray Handley, the hard runner who was second in rushing for the Pacific Athletic Conference lsst season, gets more work.

Handley carried only a half dozen times as Stanford downed San Jose 26-6 and to Ralston's thinking, that isn't enough.

He gave his views during yesterday's meeting of the Northern California Football Writers and Sportcasters Assn. which voted Stanford quarterback Dave Lewis the top back in the area for his performance against San Jose.

Lewis, a real Indian, can run, pass and punt and he isn't predictable. Twice on broken plays he got off long pass gainers to halfback Bob Blunt. One went for 71 yards and a touchdown and the other for 59 setting up a field goal.

Pressured from the sides, Lewis ran up, stopped and threw from close to the line of scrimmage.

Fullback John Read, who suffered a slightly strained knee in in the opener, is expected to be ready for action.

California travels to meet Michigan and Coach Ray Willsey sees another rugged foe in the class of Notre Dame which beat his Bears 48-6 and became the No. 1 team nationally in The Associated Press poll.

"That beating doesn't set a pattern," Willsey declared, however. "We'll play better football and keep improving through the season."

He said Jim Hunt probably will start at quarterback again against the Wolverines with Dan Berry expected to see lots of service as the game progresses.

Coach Harry Anderson of San Jose said his team played better against Stanford than the score indicated but some newcomers suffered from "first game jitters."

Both he and Ralston singled out tackle Brent Berry as outstanding. Berry performed both on offense and defense and was largely responsible for stopping Stanford plays aimed up the middle.

Berry and his defensive mates will find another tough problem this Saturday when the Spartans play Idaho at Moscow. Fullback Ray McDonald of the Vandals has both size and speed as the power runner.

IT TAKES TWO TO TANGLE

That's not a new Latin number, it's Pedro Gonzalez of the Cleveland Indians going after Detroit pitcher Larry Sherry with a bat during fracas in last night's game. The bat swinging recalled the Juan Marichal-John Roseboro incident during Giants-Dodgers game at Candlestick Park last month. See story.

GIANT COUNTDOWN

Magic Number—'9'

CINCINNATI (UPI — When Jay Alou reached up for Deron Johnson's long liner in the right centerfield corner of Crosley Field, he may have grabbed more than he bargained for. He may have hauled in a pennant for the San Francisco Giants.

Alou's one-handed catch was the crusher last night as the Giants blanked Cincinnati, 4-0, to move four games ahead in the National League chase with but a dozen contests to go. The magic number stands at nine for the Giants, who have left the other contenders gasping by grabbing 17 wins in 18 starts.

The Giants held a 3-0 lead going into the sixth, but sweat-drenched starter Bob Bolin walked Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson. Manager Herman Franks, who has been making the right move at the right time all year, hustled in Masanori Murakami.

The Japanese left retired Gordy Coleman, but then Johnson—the league RBI king—hit what looked like a homer until Alou ran it down in the corner and turned it into just another out. That finished off Cincinnati for the night—and seemingly for the year since the Reds now trail San Francisco by 5½ games.

San Francisco only managed four hits off hard-throwing Jim Maloney, who was frustrated in his bid for win number 20, and three more off reliever Teddy Davidson. But the seven bingles did the job.

Maloney had a no-hitter going into the fifth, but Jim Hart got on by an error und Len Gabrielson doubled him to third. Maloney uncorked the first of three wild pitches and Tom Haller's single made it 2-0.

Willie Mays' speed accounted for the third tally in the sixth as he walked, went to second on a wild pitch, stole third and came home on Hart's grounder. Hart's double and another single by Haller brought home the final Giant score in the eighth.

Bolin gave up two hits in both the first two innings, but blanked the Reds thereafter until the sixth when he yielded to Murakami. Mashi allowed only one more hit in four innings so they combined on a five-hit shutout even though the Reds always seemed to have a threat brewing. Bolin emerged with a flashy 12-5 record.

San Francisco tries to keep the pressure on tonight when it sends Bob Shaw (16-8) out to do battle with Jim O'Toole (3-9).

Independent-Journal Sports

Everything Is Right For S.F.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The San Francisco Giants are doing everything right these days. So much they've even got their extremely cautious manager, Herman Franks, talking in terms of a pennant.

That's no mean feat. Until now, it's been easier to induce North Viet Nam to set down at a conference table than to get Franks to as much as speculate on his team's flag prospects.

Herman finally broke down last night. Shortly after the Giants had whipped the Cincinnatti Reds 4-0, the round-faced skipper smilingly lit up a cigar, puffed out a huge smoke ring and exclaimed:

"Five more wins should do it for us."

That's as close as Franks has ever come to making a prediction all year.

Right-hander Bob Bolin and southpaw Masanori Murakami combined to pitch a five-hitter for the Giants' 90th victory of the season and their 17th in the last 18 games. With 12 games remaining, they lead the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers by four and the third-place Reds by 5 ½.

Five more Giant victories would mean that the Dodgers would have to win 10 of their remaining 12 to catch the flag.

The Reds would have to win all remaining 11.

Jim Maloney, failing in a bid for his 20th victory for the Reds, struck out 11 in seven innings and did not allow a hit through the first four. But an error by first baseman Gordy Coleman, a double by Len Gabrielson, a wild pitch and Tom Haller's single produced two Giants runs in the fifth. That was all they needed.

"Winning the first one here puts us in excellent position," said Franks, "but we still got to win five more. I've seen some strange things happen before — and right in this ball park. I remember when the 1951 Giants came here trailing the Dodgers by five games with nine left to play. We took four straight from the Reds and went on to win the pennant. So I'm making no predictions yet."

The players, all excepting Warren Spahn, appeared to be taking their cue from the manager.

"I agree with Herman," said Willie Mays. "I think five more victories will do."

"They'll never catch us now," said Spahn. "We've got the momentum. I wouldn't be surprised if we swept all three games from Cincinnati now. I think we took the starch out of them by beating Maloney."

Dick Sisler, the Reds' despondent manager, admitted the loss was "awfully hard to take."

"We're not going to give up of course," he said, "but this makes it a lot tougher for us. We just about have to win all six games we have left to play with the Giants.

"We are now six behind in the loss column, so we simply got to repeat our 1964 drive when we won nine in a row."

Then he added: "But the Giants would have to collapse, just like the Phillies did last year. To be honest about it, I don't visualize the Giants collapsing. They don't appear to be tight at all."

STATELINE, Nev. (UPI)—Qualifying runs begin today for unlimited hydroplanes in the 65,000 Lake Tahoe championship regatta.

It will be the richest purse in hydroplane racing and the first world championship ever sanctioned for this class by the Union for International Motorboating and the American Power Boat Assn.

Already on hand for the time trials is national champion Miss Bardahl who is again leading in points this year. Second place Notre Dame and Tahoe Miss are also set to enter the water today. The trials last through Friday and the race will be Saturday on Lake Tahoe.

There will be three divisions in the finals. The fastest seven qualifying boats will compete for a first prize of $12,300 in the world championship race. The next six hydros will be entered in the Ponderosa Trophy race with the first prize set at $2,800. The South Shore Trophy contest will see the 13-18 qualifiers competing for a $1,300 first prize.

All races will be three 15 mile heats.

Swimmer Conquers English Channel—Non-Stop Record

DOVER, England (AP)—Ted Erikson, the world's fastest two-way conqueror of the English Channel, told today how he won the battle of the jelly fish and of the roses that grow in the sea.

The husky 37-year-old swimmer from Chicago had to cleave his way through shoals of jelly fish on his way to France.

The roses were an illusion, as he struggled over the last few miles of the return trip to England.

He completed the two-way swim in 30 hours, 3 minutes.

"I had about two miles to go, and everything started to go black," Erikson said.

"My pilot boat faded into a black smear. Then it turned into a rose bush. Suddenly there were roses growing all around me.

"I just closed my eyes and swam on. I guess that was the moment of crisis."

Only one other man ever had swum the Channel both ways non-stop—Antonio Abertondo of Argentina, who took 43 hours, 5 minutes in 1961.

Erikson, a research chemist who started long distance swimming only five years ago, plotted to lower Abertondo's time with the help of a computor, operated by his Chicago scientific colleague Tony Dundglia.

Dundglia fed the computer Erikson's swimming speed and the complicated tidal current which make the channel a nightmare for swimmers.

Erikson tried the swim last year but was swept off course and gave up.

The same thing happened twice in the last two weeks. Each time he went adrift before reaching the French coast.

"This time I decided not to stick rigidly to the computer, although it was the basis of my plan," Erikson said.

"I relied partly on my pilot, Peter Winter, to amend our course as we went along. I had perfect weather and it worked out fine.

"Even the last two miles were comparatively easy. That is the part of the swim where most swimmers fail because of the tides."

But the jelly fish almost beat him.

"I ran into the first shoal after six hours," Erikson said. "They stung me all over, including the tip of my nose.

"They were so thick I could have floated on them like a bed. I had tears in my eyes from the stings. It seemed I would have to stop.

"But I struck out harder than ever, and in about 10 minutes I got clear of them. It was another half hour before I began to forget the pain."

WATCH THOSE HANDS — Novato halfback Frank Perachiotti scores his first of two touchdowns in the game Saturday despite that illegal hold on his face mask by College Park linebacker George Bell. Novato hopes to make it two in a row next Friday night against rough Petaluma, the team that stopped Drake's win streak last Friday.

MARIN PREPS POST 6-1 RECORD

Coaches Review Opening Games

By MAURICE WEINGER

It was six wins and one loss for teams in the Marin County Athletic League last weekend, but most of the coaches felt their team did not play well and more work was needed before this weekend's schedule.

On Friday four teams will play: Tamalpais at Skyline of Oakland, 3:30 p.m.; DeAnza vs-Redwood at Kentfield, 8 p.m.; Ukiah vs. Terra Linda at San Rafael, 8 p.m. and Novato at Petaluma, 8 p.m.

Saturday's schedule finds San Rafael at Montgomery of Santa Rosa, 4 p.m.; Marin Catholic at Oakland Tech, 2 p.m., and Analy vs. Drake at Kentfield, 2 p.m.

THE ONLY team that didn't win was, surprisingly, defending champion Drake, a 13-12 loser to Petaluma. Head coach Bob Franceschini flatly declared, "They'll be a big improvement this week," when the Pirates take on Analy.

"I was a little unhappy with my juniors and will not platoon as much as I had planned. Probably six or seven players will have to go both ways" the easy going Pirate coach said.

Franceschini commented favorably on his team's passing game. "We definitely have a good passing game with Bill Ingrim throwing to Don Alvarado and Chester Carlisle. We may work some option plays with (Dean) Lazzarini throwing." Also given credit were tackles Jerry Sprout and Karl Gonser plus linebacker Ed Farina. "That Farina was just excellent," Franceschini said.

THE SURPRISE of many football followers was the showing of Redwood against what is supposed to be a strong Mt. Diablo team. Commenting on the Giants' 6-0 win, Coach Bob Troppmann said, "After seeing the way the boys played I won't be surprised of anything this season. The amazing thing is that I didn't use much of our offense against them."

NOVATO COACH Harry Moore predicted a victory against Petaluma Friday night. "We can take them if we can eliminate our mistakes." Those mistakes cost the Hornets at least three more touchdowns, according to Moore, in their 20-0 opener against College Park.

"Our backs ran as well as expected," said Moore. "(Dick) Otis did everything we wanted (he picked up 131 yards) and (Mike) Perachiotti can break away if given any daylight," commented Moore. Perachiotti scored 15 touchdowns on the junior varsity team last year.

Moore, who is in his first year as head coach, had the assistants and himself looking very sporty with matching shirts, Bermuda shorts and socks. Also, playing against the Hornets was former Novato lineman Terry Burhett who transferred to College Park this year. He didn't waste any time letting everyone know what side he was on as he took out one of the Novato defenders with a fine block.

TERRA LINDA coach Brad Squires will probably let quarterback Sid Norman call his own game after his showing against Clayton Valley. "Norman did a fine job for a first game calling the offense and the only time I sent in a play it didn't work," said Squires.

Squires threw a lot of caution toward this week's opponent, Ukiah. "They are a big ball club with a defensive line that's over 200 pounds. They have one boy at the corner spot name Dan Hook and nothing went around him last week." Ukiah defeated Healdsburg 15-6 in their opener.

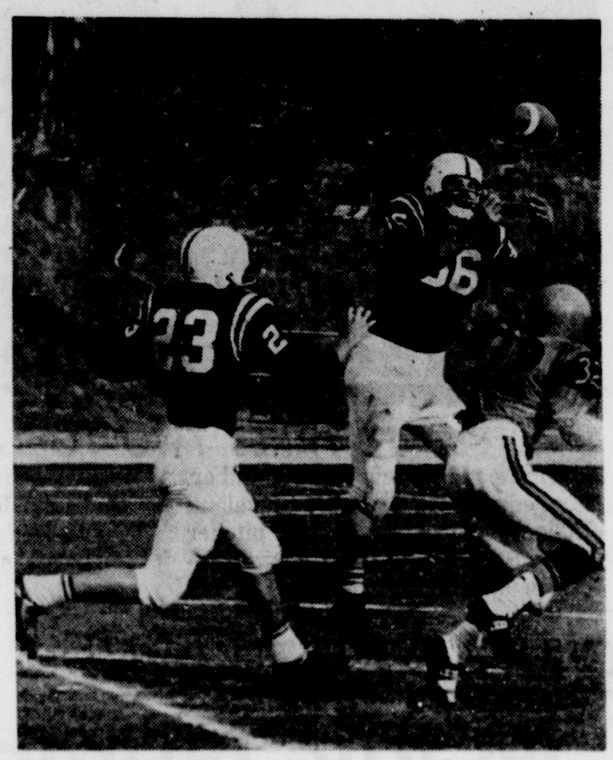
SAN RAFAEL coach Bob Muster was surprised the passing game worked as well. "Our passing game looked pretty good with Roger Widmar throwing."

CHUCK VAUGHN of Marin Catholic, a 12-6 victory over Albany, stated "there" be some changes made before we play Oakland Tech. I'm throwing John Bruemmer to either defensive tackle or guard and putting John Komo over to tackle," sail Vaughn.

The Wildcat head coach praised end Mark Stompel. "This was the first game he ever played and I feel he's a great receiver. He has all the natural moves an end needs."

WILLIE HECTOR of Tamalpais felt his team shouldn't have given up any touchdowns to Riordan in the Indians' 14-12 win. "Their first score came because our boys had the butterflies and the second on a defensive mistake," said Hector. High praise went to sophomore back Mike Fowler who was playing his first varsity game as sophomore. "He's going to be a great runner before he leaves this school" the head Tamalpais coach stated.

PREP NOTES — New freshmen football and B basketball coach at Marin Catholic is Jim Caranica. Jim's a former Lowell High and San Francisco State player who was quite a cage star a few years back . . . Marin Catholic almost lost its game on the final play when Albany end was completely in the clear, but dropped the ball . . . The Redwood Giants are pretty flashy with their new uniforms. The word Giant is written in large letters with big stars surrounding the word . . . New cross country coach at Redwood is Stan Tobiason, a retired colonel in the Air Force and teacher in the driver instruction department. Also new at Tamalpais is freshmen football coach Wes Price, a former S.F. Stater.



NO MATCH—San Rafael end Bill Tetu goes up for a pass but McClymonds back Eddie Craig is there to break up the play. Moving in is San Rafael's Swanson Raney (left). The Bulldogs won their opener, 8-0.

Death Of A Barbecue; Hunting Slow, Fishing News Is Brighter

STEVENS

In former days when a person received a post card or letter with black borders it signified death.

Before me as I type out today's column is a post card announcing a death, but not bordered in black. It is from Ray Bartleson, secretary of a rod and reel club and it does announce a death. It reads: "Barbecue cancelled for lack of interest."

There is tragedy behind that terse announcement. No doubt plans were made for a fine gathering of the clan, passed by both the entertainment committee and the members, but they died a lingering death.

IT SEEMS TO this writer that when such a death occurs — "lack of interest"—that a serious ailment besets the entire club. The question, of course, is: Should the members show their loyalty or should they exercise their right to be "independent." No matter how you look at it, the card from Ray Bertleson is a cry of distress. Sorry, fellow! Hope the members back you up at a future meeting.

No news has filtered in of deer slaying, dove hunting or rabbit kills. Scattered reports would seem to indicate either a "lack of interest" or a lack of targets. One report has it that while the season-openers on the late season saw a multitude of female deer, very few bucks were sighted.

THE PISCATORIAL picture is brighter, however. Salmon trolling outside the G.G. can hardly be called brisk—about an average of five fish per boat. Some mighty fine specimens of Oncorhynchus tschawytscha have been boated. Skipper Louis Ritloff, of the boat Ma-Ru, netted a nice 41-pounder caught by Michael Mirsky of Mill Valley. The Ma-Ru working out of Caruso's Sausalito Harbor was one of the 12 boats out on Saturday. The total catch was 62 fish for the fleet. Not good, but not really poor. Caruso's reported the best action was had off Muir Beach.

ANOTHER HEFTY king was taken aboard the Whirlaway off Slide Ranch. It weighed 39 pounds and was one of four fish boated. The above was reported from Lee Anderson's Shop in Oakland. The high boat from Lee Anderson's was made by the boat Longfin—10 salmon to 24 pounds.

The Lancer out of Lees netted two nice salmon and two halibuts. (Reports have it that a lot of fish were hooked but not landed.)

IF IT IS true that "variety is the spice of life," the skipper of the boat, Duke No. 2, must be fond of spices. On Saturday the boat accounted for 3 salmon to 27 pounds, 3 halibut to 37 pounds and 30 assorted rockfish.

News of action in the San Pablo Bay remains bassless but good on sturgeon. Bass fishing—bait, live bait, drifting, and trolling with artificials — remains very good in the Racoon Strait.

Giants Vs. Twins —A Cold Series

All right, students, it's time for our regular biennial quiz of "What's My Lie?" The subject for today is the World Series and its place in The Great Society. Ready, panel, masks in place? We will begin the general questioning with Dorothy Killjoy. The subject is self-employed, there is a product connected with what it does, but it is definitely not opening on Broadway this season.

Q. Now, a team—say, the Dodgers—are 11 games out of first place with 11 games to play and they get a rainout. What do we say in the papers?

A. We say they "kept their flickering hopes alive."

Q. And, are they flickering?

A. Like King Tut's eyelids.

Q. What is a "magic number"?

A. It is a complicated formula invented by the ancient Phoenicians by which we prove mathematically that the probable will happen, the possible might happen and the impossible can't happen.

Q. And what happens?

A. Usually, the possible. Once in a while, the impossible. Rarely, the probable.

Q. How can you say that?

A. Well, are the Phillies Champions? Was Dewey President? Did the Cardinals cop the pennant with a lame-duck manager and beer all over its face because someone got the abacus stuck on the "magic number"?

Q. What is "pennant fever"?

A. The manager of a hotel which has scheduled in a convention of the Loyal Order of the Hyenas the week that the home team has unexpectedly snuck into the World Series comes down with the ague. Similarly afflicted is the manager of the hotel who had taken a full house of reservations for the Series because his team was 7 games ahead at the time.

Q. What kind of World Series will one between Minnesota and San Francisco be?

A. Cold.

Q. Yes, but what will the papers say about it?

A. They will say it will be "a sluggers' paradise," the highest-scoring World Series in history, and for the pitchers a "reign of terror."

Q. And will it?

A. It will be decided by three 2-1 games and one 1-0 game, probably.

Q. What will the papers say then?

A. They will say it just goes to show that pitching is 75% of the game, as they have been telling you all along.

Q. Who will be favored between the Giants and Minnesota?

A. Well, the gamblers announce the Giants are favored for the Series, 13-10, but Minnesota is favored for the first game, 6-5.

Q. What if Minnesota wins that first game as they have discounted?

A. Well, then, Minnesota will be favored to win the Series.

Q. Who will win it?

A. Whichever team wins four games first. It may take awhile with these two.

Q. World Series have been celebrated for Babe Ruth calling his shot, a "perfect" game, and an outfielder scoring from first on a long single. What will this one be famous for?

A. Neither manager will say "We're playing them one at a time." In fact, one manager mey even say "We're playing them four at a time, that's why I'm not putting MY best pitcher against Marichal today."

Q. What will happen?

A. The entire front row of the press box will faint. This Series may also be noteworthy because a ghost writer asigned to do a daily piece for a famed outfielder who gets $1,000 a day for use of his name may actually get to talk to this star.

Q. What will the star say?

A. He'll say "You saw it! So, write it! I got a date." Because that's what he always says. He will also say, "I just catch 'em, I don't compare 'em" and other helpful hints to news seekers.

Q. Will the commissioner of baseball have any special duties or rulings?

A. He will be called upon to recognize rain, as usual. Also, perhaps, snow. He will be 13-10 to recognize rain in the first game but will be favored to win the Series.

Q. Minnesota's Earl Battey and Jimmy Hall wear special leather ear-laps below their helmets. Is this to ward off beanballs?

A. No. Frostbite.

Q. Does Battey wear this device behind the plate, too?

A. He'd better when Marichal comes up.

Q. Do you look for a 7-game Series?

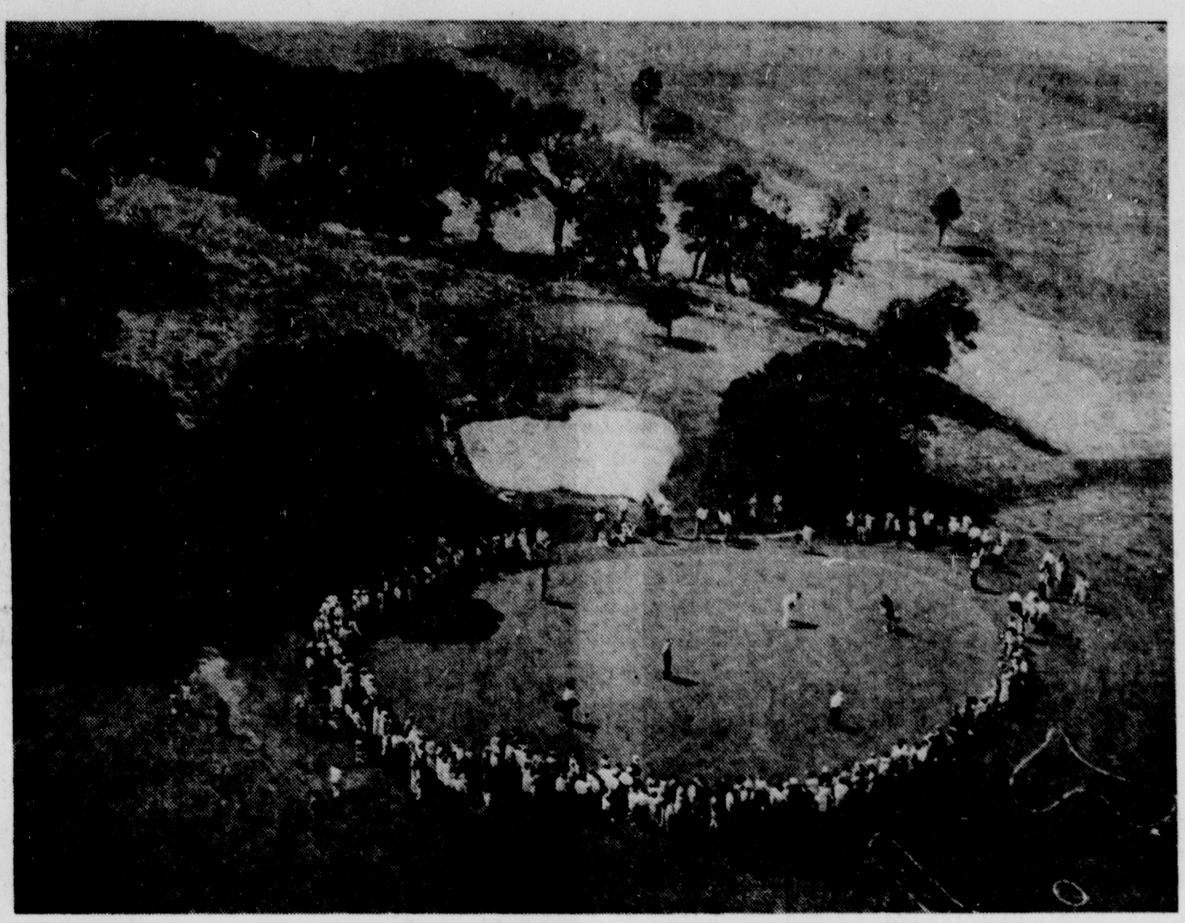
A. Only if each team wins three games first.

Q. Does Minnesota have "World Series fever"?

A. No, that temperature comes from going to night games without a hat.

Q. Does San Francisco have "World Series fever"?

A. No, their temperature is normal. Their cheeks are flushed from alcohol. They look like that even when they finish fifth. They drink a lot up there.



A RING AROUND THE STARS

Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean's photo from Commodore Air Service helicopter shows a circle of fans around one of groups of players in Sunday's second annual Marin Invitational Tournament of Stars at Peacock Gap golf course, San Rafael. A crowd of 6,500 turned out to watch many Hollywood personalities, sports and business figures play golf for the benefit of the Marin Youth Fund.

ROUTE 66—Martin Milner, star of TV's "Route 66" series, takes a different route along the Peacock Gap course as spectators watch. To the right is veteran radio and TV announcer Harry Von Zell.

RAWHIDE—Clint Eastwood of the "Rawhide" TV series was a popular attraction for young galleryites in the Tourney of Stars. He signed autographs throughout the match.

BOO—Bob Wilke, who usually portrays the villain in many Western TV shows and movies, was cheered for his fine brand of golf at Peacock Gap, winning low gross honors in the celebrity flight with a two-over-par 73.

More Games, Teams In NCAA's 1966-67 TV Plans

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The NCAA 1966-67 television plan announced today increases the games and teams televised and for the first time provides incentive for the network receiving the rights to add the NCAA's four college division championship playoffs to the schedule.

The proposed two-year package must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the NCAA member colleges and universities by Oct. 1, said H. J. Dorricott, chairman of the NCAA Television Committee.

The proposal calls for eight national and six regional dates — 13 Saturdays plus Thanksgiving — and hikes the total games from 29 to 32. The present plan provides nine national and five regional dates.

Dorricott said other innovations include provisions for extending the plan beyond the two-year pattern in effect since 1960 and permitting the committee the option of negotiating a contract with a network or submitting it to bid.

Dorricott is business manager of Western State College of Colorado and former NCAA president.

A total of 96 per cent of current football television revenue goes to competing schools and their conferences. Under the new plan the figure is 95.5 per cent.

In some respects the new plan is more flexible from the standpoint of the carrying network, which will continue to draw the schedule. Limitations on the single team are the same but the new plan eliminates requirements based on the NCAA's eight geographical districts.

Conferences with eight or more major football schools would have a minimum of three appearances in two years, a maximum of 14 each year. Leagues with five to seven football schools would have a minimum of two for two years and a maximum of 14 each year.

Major schools which are independent, or in a league with fewer than five, would have a minimum of 12 — by 12 schools — and a maximum of 16 each year.

Rischer Kayoed By London

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — Britain's Brian London, who was considered all washed up six years ago when he was stopped by Floyd Patterson, today had a one-round knockout over Roger Rischer to his credit and a yen to fight in America again.

The 31-year-old former British and Empire champion dropped the Californian twice before putting him away for the full count in 52 seconds of their televised 10-rounder at Liverpool Stadium last night.

London, ranked the No. 7 heavyweight contender by the World Boxing Assn., had been slightly favored over the eighth-ranked contender from Oakland, alif. But no one, including London, expected the Californian to be subdued so quickly.

"Rischer had a reputation for taking punches," said the jubilant Briton, "and I'm more than pleased with my performance."

Rischer hit the deck three times from a barrage of blows to the body and head.

London weighed 198 pounds. Rischer, 31, weighed 196½.

Asked if he'd like to fight in the United States again, London said "I'll leave that to them. Now I've got a good win, I'll go. I didn't think I could win so confidently and easily."

Fight Cassius Clay?

"I'm not going to throw out any challenges just yet," said London. "See my manager."

There was immediate talk, however, of a fight with Canadian champion George Chuvalo of Toronto who is scheduled to meet WBA champion Ernie Terrell of Chicago at Toronto, Nov. 1.

London was knocked out by then champion Patterson in the 11th round at Indianapolis, May 1, 1959. Since then he's also been stopped by Nino Valdez, Dick Richardson and Eddie Machen.

But it only takes one or two decisive victories to move up high in the talent-scarce heavyweight division these days.

Novato Club's Newest Play Starts Well

By THERON A. NEWELL

The Novato Community Club's production of "You Can't Take It With You," by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, got off to a good start Friday and Saturday nights with full houses both nights at the Novato Community House.

The play will be repeated at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Paula Cermak as Penny, the mother; John Geser as Grandpa and Donald Kelly as Kolenkhov deserve special mention for their excellent characterizations.

They received good support from Elaine Jacob as Essie, Joseph Jacob as Paul, Art Bliss as Mr. De Pinna, Mike Jones as Ed, Sally Geser as Alice, Paul Terry as Tony, and Eric Kollgaard as Mr. Kirby, as well as from the "bit" players.

Although the play has been plagued with changes in the cast, it was quite evident that many hours of rehearsal had gone into it. It dragged in a few places on opening night, but for the most part went along smoothly with the audience keeping up with laughter.

More than half of the opening night audience was composed of children under 12. This was the first time the Community Club has given special children's prices to one of their productions.

Hospital Calls Secret Meeting

The Marin Hospital District Board will meet in closed session tomorrow at 8 p.m. to discuss their legal defense against Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman of San Francisco, who has been battling in court for more than a year to get surgical privileges at the hospital.

Ascherman began the action in 1964, when the district opposed, then agreed to giving him temporary privileges to deliver the baby of Mrs. Joyce E. Conway of La Brea Way, Santa Venetia.

The permission was granted on the condition that the hospital be released from liability and that a staff obstetrician, anesthetist and pediatrician be in attendance.

The metting is scheduled for the Cora room of the hospital.

'ON MY HONOR . . .'

Scouts Boasting Tops In Facilities

By KIM TUCKER

"On my honor I will do my best. . . ."

Thus begins the Boy Scout Oath. And what more to ask of a boy than that he do his best?

During the past year some 6,300 boys in Marin County "did their best" to live by this familiar oath with the help of the Marin Council of the Boy Scouts of America. "The best way to stop juvenile delinquency is to prevent it," asserts Roy Michael, president of Marin Council.

"By providing full programs in character building, citizenship training, personal achievement, physical fitness, health and recreation, we are making an investment in the molding of our future community leaders."

Boys who live in Marin are more fortunate than some in other parts of the nation. Here they have the finest camping facilities anywhere in the western United States, and their Camp Marin-Sierra this year received the highest rating awarded by the Boy Scouts of America national annual inspection.

Marin scouts also enjoy the facilities of Camp Tamarancho near Fairfax, a year-round short-term camp where scouters spend weekends hiking, swimming, canoeing, boating, fishing, and on the archery and rifle ranges. No Marin scouter lives more than 45 minutes from this excellent camp.

Through the eyes of a boy, scouting is a game of adventure, fun and friendships. Through the eyes of an adult, it is a well-planned and directed program to prepare boys to be men.

The Boy Scout system of awarding merit badges for achievements in specific fields stimulates the challenge for a boy to broaden his knowledge and develop his skills. It is interesting to note that of the 1,429 merit badges awarded this past year, one of the most popular was cooking, followed closely by first aid and life saving.

In Marin, scouting is not only camping and working for merit badges, but around-the-calendar activities also offer opportunities for Scouts to display and demonstrate their achievements, talents, and progress at such events as Scout Camporees in the spring, the Cub pow wow in January, a fall outdoor rally, Scoutarama in June, and Scout Fandango in September.

Leadership of the county's 55 Cub Scout packs, 43 Boy Scout troops, 17 Explorer posts and Sea Scout ships is in the hands of 1,523 adult volunteers.

The Marin Council conducts a year-round training program for these leaders, emphasizing workshops for crafts and games in the spring and outdoor leader training in the fall. In addition, monthly round take meetings are held for all unit leaders.

"Throughout the San Francisco Bay Area, Marin County's scouting program ranks the highest, with 32.4 per cent of the county's boy population being served," according to Paul Y. Dunn, Marin Boy Scout chief executive. "Nationally, the Boy Scouts of America serve 23.5 per cent of the boy population.

These accomplishments didn't just happen. They were made possible through public support and interest in helping to build a better generation . . . support to the current United Bay Area Crusade of which Boy Scouts is a member agency.

Sausalito Hit By $250,000 Suit In Death

Susan Jeanne Gray, daughter of a 33-year-old San Francisco man who drowned when a sports car plunged over the Bridgeway sea wall in Sausalito in February of 1964, yesterday filed a $250,000 wrongful death suit against the city of Sausalito.

She alleges in the Marin Superior Court suit that Sausalito was negligent in having no barrier atop the wall.

The victim, Edwin Bernard Gray, chief of claims for the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Employee Compensation, was one of four persons in a car driven by Thomas M. Ryan, 33, San Francisco attorney.

A coroner's jury ruled the death as accidental drowning. The Ryan car collided with another vehicle just prior to the plunge into the San Francisco Bay.

A $250,000 claim for damages by Susan Gray was denied by Sausalito City Council last Nov. 10.

San Anselmo developed from a "wide spot in the road" to "the junction" when the North Pacific Coast Railroad added a spur track on July 25, 1874, extending from San Anselmo to San Rafael.

San Anselmo Board To Get Red Hill Building Request

The San Anselmo School District Board tonight will be asked to approve architect J. Martin Rosse's plans for Red Hill School.

The plans call for 10 classrooms, a library and a material center room.

The board will also review Rosse's plans for addition of eight classrooms, administrative offices and library at Hidden Valley School. Supt. Stephen Parodi said these plans will not be ready for board approval.

District plans are to call for bids on the Red Hill School in December and begin construction in January. The Hidden Valley School Addition construction will start a month later, Parodi said, and both should be ready by September, 1966.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the faculty room of Isabel Cook School.

Sonoma Boy Hurt In Wreck On 101

A 7-year-old Sonoma boy was slightly injured Sunday at 2:10 p.m. when a car in which he was a passenger was struck from behind in the fast lane northbound on Highway 101, one-quarter mile south of the San Rafael Viaduct, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The boy, Stephen Lipski, was riding with his father, Tadeausz Lipski, 43. A car cut in front of their vehicle, Lipski said. He braked and a car driven by Antoinette D. Valenti, 58, of San Francisco slammed into his car.

Young Lipski was examined for a chest injury at San Rafael General Hospital.

Car Clouters Busy In Dominican Lot

San Rafael police received two reports of car clouting incidents in the parking lot at Dominican College sometime Thursday night.

Thieves stole $200 worth of tires, hubcaps and auto accessories from the car of student Antonia J. Dellamonica and a $5 side mirror from the car of student Mary M. Mohr.

On Oct. 3, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bagnall of Belvedere and Dr. and Mrs. Donovan O. Cooke of Tiburon, will co-host an affair at the Cooke home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rice of the West Shore, Belvedere, who are leaving for Hawaii on Oct. 5, to spend eight days at Rockefeller's new hotel and golf course on the Island of Hawaii and to spend four days at the Halikalani in Honolulu. The party is also being given to welcome the Warren Finkes of Tiburon who have just returned from spending two-and-one-half weeks in the Hawaiian Islands with their daughter, Leslie, who is a sophomore at Hamlins and their son Warren Jr. The Finkes have another son, Gregory, five months old, who stayed at home with a nurse.

Mrs. Rice's mother, Mrs. William De Jung of Belvedere, will be at home with the Rice children, Stephanie, a student at Dominican, Rusty and Timothy. Another daughter, Lexie Rice, is attending the University of Denver.

The invitations which were in the shape of a pineapple and made of tapa paper went out saying "Aloha Nui Nui" (welcome home) on one side for the Warren Finkes return and on the other side "Good-by Bede and Russell." The invitations, in Hawaiian, invited 42 guests to partake of cocktails, pupus (canapes), swimming and a buffet dinner.

THE NEWLYWED Raymond Colemans were honored at a dinner at the Belvedere Fire House Friday evening. Mrs. Coleman is the former Mrs. Wendy Edwina Larson of Mill Valley. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fiske of San Rafael. The couple were married at the Redwood Presbyterian Church in Larkspur on August 28. The volunteer fire department's social organization, of which Jerry Gillin is president, arranged the party for their fellow fireman and his bride.

LOUISE BIGGERS and her sister Eileen of San Rafael, flew home from Kennedy International Airport after several weeks vacationing in Connecticut.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD G. SELLERS of San Rafael returned recently from a cruise aboard the S.S. Bahama Star to Nassau from Miami.

Benefits derived from the party will be used to aid the projects of the group. The national altruistic project of Alpha Chi Omega is Cerebral Palsy. Last year the club, locally, devoted time and effort to the KMR School in Santa Venetia.

Co-chairmen of the party, Mrs. Roland E. Fenz of Lucas Valley, and Mrs. David Ludvigson of Tiburon, have asked guests to arrive in appropriate costumes. They are also reservations chairmen.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD K. WEBSTER of Novato greeted guests at the bride's parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. West, in Bel Marin Keys Sept. 11. Crystal from Kaufman's . . .

To make wine or water memorable, drink it from what must be the world's most beautiful stemware. From Germany, these exquisite vessels are handblown bubbles of crystal on the slenderest possible stems. Clear and unadorned—simply a matter of beautiful form and incredible delicacy—the glasses are not as fragile as they look. They're called wine glasses, and doubtless it's very chic to serve wine in oversized goblets, but the white wine tulip glasses would do as well for water or lots of champagne (these are 2.25 each), and the round bowl (or red wine) goblets would hold a bottle of beer (imported, of course), a floating gardenia or a gold fish. Each, 2.50.

Austria sent us a clear crystal decanter for sherry that is pure and simple design. A flawless little beauty! Fret not if you haven't got a sherry equal to it, cooking sherry would taste marvelous from a decanter like this; especially if poured into the Belgian sherry glasses that go so well with the decanter. Quelle grace! Quelle elegance! Quelle modest price! The decanter is 9.95; a set of six glasses is 5.00.

LOW CALORIE diets can include gourmet recipes believe registered dietitian Pamela Gilroy and nutritionist Frances Dahl, who are testing the dishes for the menus they will give in the new weight control classes that will open Sept. 27 at Ross General Hospital and Sept. 28 in Novato. Class members will weigh in and chart progress throughout the 16 week course, sponsored by the Marin Heart Assn. (Independent-Journal photo)

WEIGHT CONTROL

Marinites On Low Calorie Diet May Enjoy Stroganoff

Does the gourmet take a back seat with his favorite recipes removed from the recipe box when the doctor orders a low calorie diet?

Not completely, according to the new weight control classes soon to get underway in Marin. And the secret is out—recipes can be adapted to conform to low calorie—even such favorites as Beef Stroganoff, Sweet and Sour Shrimp, French Omelettes, Shish Kebab and others.

TELLING MARINITES how to prepare balanced meals and how to watch the calorie count at the same time will be registered dietitians Pamela Gilroy and Frances Dahl, who will conduct the fall classes in weight control at two locations.

Starting Monday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. weight classes will be given at Ross General Hospital. Instruction will continue each Monday for 16 weeks.

A second class for Marinites living in and around the Novato area will start Sept. 28 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. and continue each Tuesday for 16 weeks at Novato General Hospital.

Men and women may register for the instruction sessions and all are eligible upon physician referral. (A 1200 calorie base will be used).

Weight loss anticipated is one and one half pounds per week based on previous weight control class averages. Class members will weigh in and chart progress throughout the 16 week course.

Instruction is based on food preparation around the whole family meal pattern, selection of acceptable foods for varied menus and learning to adapt recipes for appetizing meals.

Registrations for the course may be made with the Marin County Heart Association which is sponsoring the weight control course as part of its community service program.

Among the favorite gourmet recipes featured in past Marin County Heart Assn. weight classes adapted to low calorie are the following:

SWEET AND SOUR SHRIMP
(Serves 6)

2 lbs. raw shrimp
3 Tbsp brown sugar
2 Tbsp corn starch
½ tsp salt
¼ cup cider vinegar
1 Tbsp soy sauce
½ tsp. ground ginger
1 green pepper, cut in strips
2 small onions, cut in rings
1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) pineapple chunks—diet pack
Juice from canned pineapple

Boil, shell and devein shrimp. Mix sugar, cornstarch, ginger and salt together in saucepan. Add pineapple juice, vinegar and soy sauce and stir smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Add green pepper, onions and pineapple chunks, and cook for 3 to 4 minutes. Add shrimp, bring to boil and serve. (Each serving gives about 4 to 5 ounces shrimp). Calories per serving—145.

FRENCH LUNCHEON OMELETTE
(Serves 3)

4 eggs
Pinch of salt
1 Tbsp water
1 tsp. butter

Beat eggs with salt and water. Put teaspoon of butter in frying pan. When hot, add eggs. As eggs harden around sides, pull toward middle and liquid eggs will fill in empty spaces. When all liquid is cooked, but eggs are still soft, add desired flavorings, and fold half of omelette over other half. Cook until brown and crisp on bottom. Turn onto hot plate.

Suggested fillings for omelette:

Chopped mushrooms
Chopped chives
Chopped tomatoes and onions
Diet jam
Chopped chicken livers
Chopped ham or bacon curls
Chopped cooked spinach or asparagus.

SHISH KEBAB
(Serves 3)

1 lb. lamb, cubed

MARINADE:

1 cup red wine
½ cup soy sauce
1 cup pineapple juice
1 tsp. thyme
¼ cup Worcestershire sauce
1 onion, finely chopped
½ tsp. pepper
1 tsp. rosemary

Mix all together and pour to cover cubes cut from lamb leg. Let stand 2 hours or overnight in refrigerator. Arrange cubes on skewers with assortment of vegetables (see below). Broil 3 inches from heat for about 20 minutes, turning frequently and basting with the marinade.

Vegetables: Tomatoes — cut into eighths if large, or use whole cherry tomato.

Onions—cut into 1 inch wedges or use small boiling onions whole.

Green pepper—cut into large cubes.

BEEF STROGANOFF
(Serves 4)

1 lb. beef tenderloin or lean beef or round, sirloin
Salt and pepper
3 Tbsp. enriched flour
½ lb. mushrooms
2 medium onions
3 Tbsp. butter
2 cups beef bouillion
1 Tsp. dry mustard
Pinch of oregano, dill seed
3 Tbsp. sherry
⅓ cup of plain yoghurt

Cut meat into strips about two inches long and width of a pencil. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and let stand in a cool place for two hours.

Melt butter in heavy skillet. Saute mushrooms until tender. Remove from skillet. Saute onions until brown, remove from skillet. Brown meat on all sides in remaining butter but leave rare, set aside. Blend flour into butter in skillet, gradually add bouillion stirring constantly until smooth and slightly thick. Add tomato paste, mustard, sherry and blend well. Add oregano and dill weed. Combine sauce with meat, mushrooms, onions and cook in double boiler for 20 minutes. Blen in Yoghurt five minutes before serving. Serve over one-half cub broad noodles or boiled rice.

Calories per serving for stroganoff—244.

Calories per serving for half cup noodles—55.

COFFEE SPONGE
(Serves 6)

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1½ Tbsp. instant coffee powder
1 tsp. non-caloric liquid sweetner
2 cups skimmed milk
Pinch of salt
2 egg whites

Soften gelatin in milk. Add coffee and heat, stirring until gelatin and coffee are dissolved. Add salt and sweetner. Chill until slightly thickened. Add and fold in beaten egg whites. Chill until firm.

Contains approximately 35 calories.

This dessert may be served with a topping:

½ cup cold water
Juice of ½ lemon
¾ cup dry skimmed milk powder

Sprinkle powder over cold water, add lemon juice and beat well until thick. Chill well.

Marin Losing Cultural Talent To Big Neighbor

Actor-director Jack Aranson of Mill Valley, long associated with the Sausalito Gate Theater, will be moving his company out of Marin and into San Francisco.

He and his actress wife, Mary Rose McMaster, are opening their new City Theater in the Women's City Club at 465 Post Street.

Aranson's immense talent in acting, directing and staging, will be missed in Marin County.

It is unfortunate that lack of community support forced the Aransons to leave Sausalito. The one consolation is that their new theater is still close enough and easily accessible to his followers here, and their talents will continue to add to the culture of the Bay Area.

Their new City Theater will open on Sept. 29 with the American premiere of an Irish tragi-comedy, Siva, by John B. Keane. Regular performances will be on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Next spring, Aranson plans a Shakespeare production.

We wish them success in their new venture.

Back here in Marin, we still have our Festival Theater in San Anselmo and the Marin Shakespeare Festival, both of which seem to be thriving.

We trust that culture-conscious Marin residents will give the remaining theaters and local actors the backing that they deserve.

San Francisco or Berkeley may be close enough for ardent supporters to follow.

But we would hate to lose all our local talent to neighbors across the bay.

Chinese Bandit Intrudes While India, Pakistan Wage Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The war between India and Pakistan—with Red China dancing around the edges and now butting in—has become a kind of fantasy, but a somber one.

WARNED TO KEEP their nose out by the United States, which they call a paper tiger, the Red Chinese could hardly hope to save face if they obeyed. Besides, they have a big stake in seeing India lose.

This, by keeping troops along the northern edge of India, the Chinese have weakened the Indians' ability to fight Pakistan. They have had to divert half their forces to watching the Chinese.

Since democratic India is the ideological rival of authoritarian China in Asia, so long as it survives and prospers, if it prospers, it provides an alternative to communism. This is unendurable for the Chinese.

Therefore, the destruction of India benefits China which, unlike Russia, has plumped for Pakistan in this war. The Soviets, along with the United States and the United Nations have wanted a cease-fire to end the fighting.

PAKISTAN, once considered this country's most fervent ally in Asia, began to cool and turn to China when, after the latter's assault on India in 1962, this country began to arm the Indians.

It had previously armed Pakistan much better. But the population of India outnumbers that of Pakistan by more than 4 to 1. So, if India and Pakistan were ever equally armed, Pakistan wouldn't have much chance.

This is probably the basic reason why Pakistan moved into disputed Kashmir last month—to hit before India got armed any better—and began the fighting, a sort of now-or-never tactic.

BUT NEITHER India nor Pakistan is equipped for a really long war. Both sides know it. And last week Pakistan must have shocked its Chinese friends by suggesting the United States try to settle things.

Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan said this country should use its "enormous influence" to bring a settlement because it "has a role to play in this part of the world and ought to play it more positively."

But any further intrusion of the United States in Asia is the last thing the Chinese want and this suggestion by Pakistan must have been a blow to them. What they want is the United States out of Asia altogether.

THE UNITED NATIONS had already sent its secretary-general, U Thant, to both India and Pakistan in search of a solution and, so far as has been revealed, got very dismal results.

Then last week Secretary of State Dean Rusk, concerned about the itchy look of the Chinese on the Indian frontier, said "our own advice to Peking would be to stay out and let the U.N. Security Council settle it."

With the world looking at them after this rebuff from what they called the paper tiger, the Red Chinese Thursday reacted as if to show the United States it couldn't tell them what to do.

THEY TOLD India to pull its forces out of a border area claimed by Peking about 1,000 miles away from the Indian-Pakistan fighting or face "grave consequences."

Hunting, Gun Safety Reminders Due

Each year, about 2,100 persons are killed in the United States by shooting accidents. Most of these are in accidents around the home, but an average of 700 hunters are killed each year during the hunting season.

Here are some suggestions on firearm safety from the National Safety Council:

Guns should be unloaded before they come into the home. Ammunition should be locked in a separate location. Keep firearms out of reach and sight of children.

Weapons should be unloaded before being put in a car or a boat.

Carry gun with safety on until you are ready to fire. Before crossing a fence or wall or jumping a brook, either open the gun or remove the cartridge.

Fluorescent orange clothing is the "safest" color to wear. Red and yellow are more difficult to spot.

Keep the muzzle pointed in a safe direction. Know where your companions are. Be sure of your target and what is beyond.

THE BROAD DIMENSIONS OF LOVE

Love seeks to enrich the lives of others, rather than "use" them for personal pleasure or gain.

Love is more interested in giving than in receiving.

Love is not content with superficial knowledge. It endeavors to learn as much as possible about the legitimate aspirations of persons in physical, mental or spiritual need.

Love respects people for what they are—or should be. It keeps ever aware that each individual is endowed by God with a distinct and unique personality.

Love goes beyond wishful thinking. It risks rebuffs, disappointments and seeming failure in an untiring attempt to be of service to others.

Love lives up to the highest form of responsibility—to make a free and generous response in meeting the wants of other human beings.

In short, love wants others to have the same benefits of body and soul that it wishes for self.

"Greater love than this no one has, that one lay down his life for his friends."
(John 15:13)

Let me prove my love for You, O Lord, by my love of my fellow man.

University Courses Being Offered Through World Trade Authorities

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—One of the lesser known activities of state government is the sponsorship of the World Trade Authorities in San Francisco and Los Angeles. The authorities were created by legislative action, with the idea that California being a Pacific Coast state and one of the gateways to the Orient, would profit through promotion of commerce with Asia and the South Seas.

The Authority center in San Francisco located in the old ferry building has developed offices for quite a number of nations, which have goods on display. In fact, the show-cases are more interesting than some of the exhibits seen at state and at world fairs.

Now a new item has been added for the promotion of World Trade, one that has been a long-time coming, but which if handled properly is expected to increase the knowledge needed to participate in this type of business.

The authority announced that the first university courses of their kind anywhere in the nation outside of New York are beginning this week at the University of California Extension Center in San Francisco.

This marks a new field in the presentation of educational courses, in fact a field that has been neglected for a good many years. But with a modest beginning, the courses could work up in time to an important phase of the university's extension offerings.

PROFESSORS FOR the courses will be experts in the field. The university usually procures experts for its extension courses, which are for the most part not only valuable adjuncts to an education already obtained by working adults, but also courses which avoid where possible theories and pin-point facts for students.

The first course, which is an introduction to international business environment, will be taught by Leo Spier, assistant professor of business administration at the university, and also research consultant to Kaiser Industries International.

SECOND COURSE will be an introduction to international economics, given by A. Gerlof Homan, chief of international research for the Bank of America, and former senior economist at Stanford Research Institute.

Along with the two courses the university has scheduled a series of five lectures by international authorities during the fall by experts in the field of international trade.

WITH THE growth of California in pouplation and demand for consumer goods, it is only axiomatic that foreign trade should increase. This state has numberless products from agriculture and manufacturing that can be disposed of on the Asiatic side of the ocean, as well as on other continents and islands. And the peoples of these other nations have products which are not produced in this state.

Consequently, the "know-how" of getting the products from one point to the other becomes increasingly important in the economic life of California. It is an advance in education that the university recognizes this fact, and it attempting to provide the means for those people who are interested in adding to their knowledge.

Editorial Praised On Punishment Stand

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Another example of your thoughtful, reasonable editorials (Protect the Innocent, Not The Brutal Killer—Sept. 13, 1965).

I'm no more bloodthirsty than you, but the national kidnapping law does lend some credence to the deterrent effect of capital punishment.

I commend you on your excellent newspaper and an attitude which I consider is a sensible, understanding, middleground approach and the true one.

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Say, I just read that yearly pay for intercity truck drivers averages in excess of $10,000.

Now, that's an Anti-poverty Program, if I ever heard one!

Not that they don't deserve it, fighting that army of maniacs every day.

I wonder if Karl Marx had something like this in mind when he prescribed, "From each according to his ability; to each according to his needs"?

$5,000 a year will be fine for me, but it will be an awful comedown for the truck driver!

BENNETT CERF

THE CAPABLE cook in a Southern home was called as a witness in a heated court battle between the husband and his wife. Requested to repeat the exact conversation that led to the final fracas, the cook announced, "I cain't remember rightly, except they each was calling the other what they both is."

ADVERTISING wizard Aaron Sussman bought a new mouse trap for his cellar, but when he prepared to set it, he discovered that he had neglected to buy cheese for it. Ever the master improviser, Sussman cut the picture of a succulent cheese from a woman's magazine and inserted same in his trap. It worked like a charm. The next morning he found in his trap a superb photograph of a mouse.

Women Don't Count Their Change; They Just Count Trading Stamps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Earlier this month, Rep. Lester L. Wolff, D-N.Y., held a series of informal hearings on the economic effect of trading stamps.

He wanted to determine whether the practice of giving stamps to retail customers was contributing to the rise of food and drug prices.

There was some dispute about that, but the hearings did rather conclusively show that the stamps appeal strongly to women. Which was not exactly a big surprise.

ONE WITNESS, the president of a drug chain, called it "a female sickness."

"Women do not count their change," he said. "They just count their stamps. It gets to where they prefer their private little kitty of stamps to money."

This started Wolff to wondering what effect they were having on the U.S. Government, which probably takes in even more trading stamps than the average woman does.

He tried to check into the matter, but in a recent statement he indicated he was having some difficulty.

"I have searched all of the government publications on job classifications and nowhere do I find the office of stamp lickers who must be in charge of pasting these stamps in books," he said.

NOR WAS HE able to locate "the department of premium selection."

That being the case, Wolff suggested it might be a good idea for the government to prepare a "redemption catalog" to cover the use of the stamps it collects.

"On one page we could offer stamps to congressmen and senators who attend quorums or go to committee meetings," he pointed out.

"Another page might offer trading stamps to taxpayers who mail in returns early or, perhaps, a taxpayer might receive stamps instead of cash refunds.

"WE MIGHT open a whole new area in the field of youth by offering stamps for good behavior, or maybe instead of a pay raise for our government employees we could give them stamps."

Such creative thinking is a rare commodity in Congress and I hesitate to put a damper on Wolff's brilliant proposals. But the fact is that the government already has a trading stamp policy.

AT PRESENT, they are turned over to government hospitals, which trade them in for recreational equipment and other items that boost the morale of their patients.

Another difficulty is the fact that nobody knows for sure how many stamps the government collects.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

LBJ Plans Would Help Prof's Image

By ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson is maneuvering through Congress another "legislative sleeper" being privately hailed by his aides as even more important than the recently-passed State Technical Service Act.

KNOWN AS the Community Service Programs section of the president's higher education bill, the revolutionary proposal is designed to extend the role of the nation's universities, faculties and student bodies into community and national affairs on a scale never before attempted.

Like the State Technical Service Act, which the president publicly labeled the "sleeper" of the 89th Congress, the Community Service Program is patterned after the Agricultural Extension Service Act.

It provides $50 million annually in federal grants to universities and colleges the next five years to launch programs to assist in solving urban and suburban problems.

Under guidelines to be laid down by the Office of Education of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, educators will be encouraged to exert a liberal influence in their communities by giving them federal funds to hold conferences, seminars and teach-ins to discuss and work out methods of combatting the social ills and problems of the growing big cities and their suburbs.

EMPHASIZING the sense of mission behind the administration's new educational project, Vice President Hubert Humphrey told a Washington meeting of educators:

"If we are going to solve the problem of poverty and race that are plaguing our cities, the universities and their faculties must become involved in the community around them. They must quit playing games and get into the battle.

"Any action that believes in justice must see that those on the bottom receive more than those on top. This Community Service Program will use the great influence of the universities to help bring this about."

THE REPORT of the House Labor and Education Subcommittee, which approved the program with little discussion, indicated federal funds could be used for an even wider variety of projects, including:

"Concentrated studies of employment problems and the resources of communities toward stimulating economic growth and more effective management of community enterprises that will largely determine the course of the community's future."

"Task forces to appraise the community welfare administration and to subject the problems revealed by this appraisal to the insights of a wide variety of university disciplines; among others, psychologists, economists, architects, lawyers and physicians."

"Conferences and seminars to help local groups mount attacks on poverty, and on ways to end discrimination patterns in housing, education and employment."

There are other indications that administration officials envisage an even wider use of federal funds by universities.

ONE CONFIDENTIAL memorandum being circulated within the Office of Education reveals that universities will be encouraged to use the federal grants to hold conferences on foreign policy, conservation and leisure.

"The Community Service Program can make college professors as influential in big cities as the Agricultural Extension Service Act made the County Extension Agent," concludes the memorandum.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

Novato Recall May Be Mistake With Elections Around Corner

Three members of the Novato City Council have been threatened by a recall because some citizens did not like the tax increase in this year's city budget. They have many people on their side in opposition to the special tax for park and civic center land acquisition. In fact, 350 people signed the petitions against the tax increase.

But that is only one side of the coin. At the hearing just a couple of weeks before that, only one or two people in a room full of people opposed the tax. The rest were not only in favor of it, but wanted parks for the city and wanted them immediately.

THAT WAS THE choice the city council had to make. It felt that more people had expressed themselves for parks than against the tax increase. As Alice Yarish pointed out, before incorporation 10 times the number as signed the petition against the tax increase had signed a petition wanting parks.

Douglas M. Merrill was absent on the last budget meeting when the budget and tax rates were adopted. Because of that, he was omitted from the threatened recall of Mayor Robert Carrow, Lucile Cannon and Jack Adams. He asked to be included in it.

RECALLS AT BEST are hard, expensive things to put across. They consume a lot of time and money, and very few are successful.

Many people will sign petitions just to sign them, but when it comes to signing one for the recall of a duly elected official, it is a much more serious matter.

Adams and Merrill ran on platforms that had spending more money and getting things done as one of the major planks.

Now, two of the three councilmen mentioned for the threatened recall come up for re-election in April. They are Bob Carrow and Lucile Cannon.

IT WILL TAKE at least six months to get a good recall campaign going, and if successful, might be at the same time as the campaign of these two on the council.

We remember when Al Bowman had the recalls going against three council members. It came during the fight over the proposed freeway route through the city. Bowman had legal advice and went about the recall quite properly. He had papers out against John Angeloni, Babe Silva and Everett Pozzi.

Then when the highway commission decided on the route just east of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, the one Bowman favored, the recall was dropped.

THE FREEWAY ISSUE was a hot one in the city at the time. It was one of the major reasons for incorporation. The people wanted the freeway moved out of the business district.

Even with all this sentiment on his side, we suspect that Al Bowman was having a hard time getting the required 25 per cent of the voters to sign for a recall election.

Now, with very little sentiment expressed against the higher taxes placed by the city of Novato, we suspect that Harold Bright and George Amaroli, who threatened the recall against the council, will have a hard time getting signatures on petitions. Even if they get that far with a recall, we suspect that they will find it takes a lot of man hours and money to gather the signatures.

THE WHEELS OF A republic turn slowly, but sooner or later the majority of people can get those they oppose out of office. Generally the public is content to wait for the next election. Special recall elections are few and a long way between. And the successful ones are even more scarce.

Ex-Drake Leader Has Malawi Post

Mike McCone, who was Sir Francis Drake High School's first student body president, is director of the Peace Corps in Malawi, one of the emerging African nations.

McCone's position follows two years as deputy director of the Peace Corps in Sierra Leone and a year at the program desk at Peace Corps headquarters, Washington D. C.

McCone visited his mother, Mrs. A. McAndrew of Upper Road, Ross, prior to his Aug. 1 departure for two years in Blantyre, Malawi.

Following graduation from Drake High with its first class in 1952, McCone attended Yale University, where he received his bachelor of arts degree in political science. He then served two years in the Navy.

Larkspur School Blacktop Slated

The Larkspur School District Board at its meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the district administrative offices will call for bids for blacktopping of school grounds in the district and turfing at Neil Cummins School.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen said he estimates the entire project will cost $20,000.

The board will also discuss whether the district should join the city of Larkspur's recreation program.

Cohen will give reports on the building progress, school libraries and curriculum.

Airmen Hurt As Car Hit From Rear On 101

Two Hamilton Air Force Base airmen suffered minor injuries when the car they were driving stalled in the slow northbound lane of Highway 101 at the Corte Madera Creek Overpass at 3:15 a.m. yesterday and was struck from behind by a pickup truck, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital were Leroy T. Lites, 25, and John L. Headroe, 25, both of the base. The patrol said the car, driven by Lites, had slowed to five miles per hour when it was hit by a truck driven by Jean Lalrando of 1437 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Pre-War Upswing In Employment Due To War Not Roosevelt

As a general rule, any piece of mine that treads on the toes of the Establishment—and those boys certainly have big feet—draws an immediate salvo, via the postman or even western union, of literary brickbats and Molotov cocktails. I do not say these lads are trigger-happy, exactly, but they are definitely quick on the draw.

But at least one of them, Frank J. Haas of Alhambra, is of a more judicial temperament. He waits to make sure both flanks are covered, and his present assault is against a paragraph in a column of some four months ago. Here is the offending sentence: "I must confess I thought F.D.R. was a wastrel: for he threw millions away and at the end of eight years there were just as many unemployed as there were when he came into power."

THAT WAS NOT as he recalled it, and his doubts were confirmed when he "searched various reference material and conferred with friends who were in business during the period mentioned."

Then he consulted the U. S. Department of Labor, which wrote him that "the columnist was greatly in error" and gave him the following data: in 1932, the total labor force was 51 million and 12 million were unemployed, while in 1940 out of a total force of 56 million only 8 million were jobless.

HAVING THUS triumphantly pinned my ears back, Mr. H. adds reproachfully: "To besmirch the memory of a great American is odious; to do it with a lie is contemptible. Mr. Ryskind, do you do this sort of thing with malice, or are you too tired to check the facts?"

Well, now, let's take a closer look at those figures—which I accept because, frankly, I'm too tired to check them. But the basic thrust of that particular column was that the vaunted New Deal measures had failed to reduce unemployment. And that is still my contention. The bugles blared and the drums rolled — but what came out of the hat was rabbits, not jobs.

It is regretful that Mr. Haas concentrated so completely on 1940 that he overlooked the intervening years — but that is one of the dangers of specialization. Had he gone to Britannica, hardly an extremist right-wing publication, he would have found this concerning the year 1935: "The number of unemployed still remained, after three years of enormous expenditures for relief, between 10 and 12 million." (And that same encyclopedia, be it noted, records the unemployed when F.D.R. assumed office at 10 million.)

AFTER THE RECESSION of 1937 found the relief rolls swelling, with the result that in the by-election of 1938 the GOP picked up 81 seats in the House and eight in the Senate, polling 51.5 per cent of the vote outside the still solid South. On that basis, they confidently looked forward to victory in 1940 and—says Britannica—" might well have won it had not the war in Europe intervened."

It was, in short, not the Roosevelt measures, but fear of Hitler that cut the relief and unemployment rolls.

In March, the House voted to increase our air force from 2,000 planes to 5,500, together with other whopping sums for anti-aircraft guns, artillery, tanks and improvements for the defense of Puerto Rico, Alaska, Hawaii and the Panama Canal.

THE ARMY appropriation of $499,800,000 for fiscal 1939-40 was the largest (till then) ever made in peacetime. The navy got $65 million, and two new 45,000 - ton battleships were authorized.

E. R. Stettinius was drafted from U. S. Steel to coordinate the efforts in supplying the hundreds of thousands of items we would need if war came.

That is how, Mr. Haas, unemployment was reduced and Rosie the riveter got on the assembly line with her menfolk. If you insist on bestowing a medal on the genius who was responsible, be sure the name you inscribe on it is not Roosevelt, but Schicklgruber.

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 21, the 264th day of 1965 with 101 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars, and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1792, France was proclaimed a republic.

In 1893, the first successful gasoline-operated motor car made in America designed and built by Charles and Frank Duryea appeared on the streets of Springfield, Massachusetts.

In 1938, at least 450 persons were killed in a hurricane that battered the coasts of New England and New York.

In 1955, Rocky Marciano knocked out Archie Moore in the ninth round at Yankee Stadium, successfully defending his heavyweight title for the sixth time.

A thought for the day: British author H. G. Wells said: "Human history becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Switching Suits May Result In Success For Defenders

The standard defense against a high notrump contract is to keep plugging away at one long suit.

Switching from one suit to another usually helps declarer, but there are exceptions to all bridge rules.

Opening lead — ♡ K

West opened the king of hearts, and East signalled encouragement with the nine. South wisely refused the first trick.

West continued with a low heart, and East won with the jack.

If South won the trick he would have to lead a spade to try for a ninth trick, whereupon East would take the ace of spades and lead a heart to West.

Most defenders would lead a third heart from the East hand, and South would make the game. South would take the ace of hearts, run his diamonds, and lead a spade.

East could take the ace of spades, but then there would be no way to get to West's hearts.

SEES SPADES

East could see the top spades in his own hand and dummy, and knew what was happening in hearts. South had clearly bid the game on the strength of a solid diamond suit.

There was no hope of defeating the contract unless West had a high club — but if West had a high club, a switch to that suit was better than continuing hearts.

SOUTH LOST

East therefore led the four of clubs at the third trick, and South's game vanished from sight. Whenever South led spades, the defenders would beat him with the rest of the clubs.

East would have continued the hearts at the third trick if he had no high cards, for then he would expect his partner to have an entry.

The switch to clubs became necessary when it was clear that West had no entries.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer bids one spade, and you are next, holding:

♠ 8 7 3
♥ K Q 10 5 2
♦ 9
♣ K 8 7 2

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

The hand is worth an overcall of one heart but is not good enough for an overcall of two hearts.

Pert Finnish Coed Studying At Tam

By BRUCE COLEMAN

"Hei" (pronounced hay) means hello or hi in Finnish. Or you can say, "hei! hei! hei."

"Kiitos" is thank you and "lahtaan" means let's go.

These are a few words that Pirjo Inkeri Saamanen of Helsinki has taught her "American sister," Shawn Kershaw of Mill Valley.

Miss Saamanen is staying with Shawn and Shawn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Winey of 157 Lark Lane under a one-year exchange sponsored by the American Field Service, Tamalpais High School chapter. Pirjo and Shawn are Tamalpais seniors.

Pirjo (pronounced Pee-ree-oh with a roll of the 'R') has completed her secondary education in Helsinki. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Saamanen, both primary school teachers. She has one brother and two sisters, one of whom is also a teacher.

Asked if she plans to teach, Pirjo replied, "No, that's enough."

She said that on return to Finland following this school year, she plans to attend Helsinki University and study home economics.

Pirjo speaks English, although she says "not well," Finnish, Swedish and German. At Tamalpais she studies English, American history, American government (which is taught by C. E. Beattie, who has lived in Finland where he taught English for one year), ceramics and physical education.

Exchanges, other than language, which Miss Saamanen is making during her five-week stay up to date are name days, how to create and wear "high style" Finnish clothing, and how to design a Finnish flag replica for a pot holder.

"You don't just have birthdays but also name days in Finland," said Pirjo. "If a man forgets his wife's birthday, he is forgiven because her name day he will not forget."

Pirjo, 18, and Shawn, 17, are making pot holders with Finnish flags superimposed to be sold at the "flea market" from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the boys' gymnasium at Tamalpais High. It is to benefit the American Field Service program.

Flags are white with a blue cross which Pirjo explains as "like sky and snow."

Miss Saamanen designs and makes her own clothing, which Mrs. Winey terms "high style," adding that "in this, Finland is pushing Paris."

The pert Finn, whose nickname is Pipsa, says Finland was the first European country to give women the right to vote. That was in 1906. Finland is noted for its agriculture, industry, lumber, paper, mining, machinery and design.

Asked if she skis, Miss Saamanen said, "In Finland, everybody skis."

Asked how far one must travel to ski, she answered, "We ski in Helsinki." She added that ski instruction is given in school gym classes.

Queried as to what special things she wanted to do during her stay in the United States, Miss Saamanen replied, "I want to do everything possible."

Miners' Disease Adds To Appalachia's Woes

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON —Add another woe to Appalachia's mountain of problems.

Doctors are discovering "coal-miners' asthma"—a crippling and sometimes fatal lung disease — now afflicts nearly one in five unemployed or retired miners who once worked the soft coal fields stretching from Pennsylvania to Alabama and westward to Kentucky.

While coal-miners' chest diseases have an ancient and fatalistic ring, the debilitating asthma—technically, pneumonoconiosis—has unearthed a new dimension of the problem.

It's apparently far more prevalent—striking about one in ten working miners — than anyone had thought. So little is known about how it cripples that workmen's compensation laws have yet to catch up with many suspect cases.

The problem has been brought to the attention of President Lyndon B. Johnson. As a consequence, he is strongly endorsing a program to combat the disease. This attack will be started during meeting in December sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service and the Bureau of Mines.

Thirty experts from labor, coal-mine management, industrial engineering and medicine will air the problem at the University of Maryland. In disclosing the meeting, a White House statement said that American coal miners die from all kinds of respiratory diseases at a rate five times that of the general male worker.

Where workmen's compensation laws recognize the problem, claims have risen sharply.

U.S. Public Health Service figures indicate lung ailments among miners, mostly soft-coal men, will cost Pennsylvania $21 million next year, compared with $17 million in 1964.

But in some of the states pneumonoconiosis just doesn't exist—legally. This means an ailing miner either collects no compensation, or that someone winks at the law and labels the miner's condition something else, usually silicosis.

Silicosis develops slowly and insidiously over the years among a certain percentage of miners in the metal industry. Though safety improvements have lowered the risk of younger workers, the Public Health Service still considers it a major problem, too.

The soft-coal disease has never been as clear-cut as silicosis, which stems from the long-term inhalation of dust containing particles of crystalline silica.

Indeed, long after soft-coal asthma was found and diagnosed among British coal workers, many American authorities insisted it didn't exist here. They argued that the British climate and crowded city living aggravated lung ailments among English workers.

When American medical scientists finally looked into it they found there was a very real soft-coal disease after all. And it was afflicting a sizable percentage of some 64,000 Appalachian miners.

That was disclosed only this year by Dr. Murray C. Brown, of Public Health Service's division of occupational health, which sponsored a two-year study in cooperation with the mining industry.

The disease is being diagnosed far more frequently among older miners. "Over 21 per cent of the active miners aged 55 to 64 were found to have pneumoconiosis, and almost 20 per cent of the inactive miners in that age group were affected," he told the annual meeting of the American Mining Congress.

While the disease occurs in milder forms, it has developed into a severe stage in 3 per cent of the working miners. Marked by breathlessness, wheezing and coughing of black sputum, this stage is irreversible and eventually fatal.

The best bet, say some of the experts, is prevention of the conditions that pave the way for onset. The Bureau of Mines has looked into some possibilities. While wetting the coal to keep down dust seems feasible, it spokesman said. There have b hasn't yet proved itself, a Spokesman said. There have been some promising tests with a dust-squelching foam, he added.

Doctors also need a precise way of measuring the amount and kind of harmful dust that can be tolerated. They are still working on one.

To Dr. Brown this aspect of research on coal-miners' asthma is a major step forward in understanding a whole range of job-caused lung ills.

Diamonds Like Pots And Pans— Need Cleaning

CHICAGO (UPI) — Diamonds — like pots, pans, ovens and silverware — must be cleaned regularly.

The first step is to take the "covers" off your gems to make them look bigger. What are "covers?" Your foundation cream, lotion and makup that film the stone and prevent light from entering. Also the natural oil of the skin, and grease or dust in the air.

Researchers for Libbys, the food company, suggest these tips for cleaning diamonds.

—Soak the gems for 30 minutes in a cup of half-and-half solution of cold water and household ammonia. Ammonia emulsifies grease and forms its own "soap." Then lift out and tap gently with a brush. No rinse is needed.

Think Small, Chemists Say

NEW YORK (AP)—While nearly everyone else is concerned with "thinking big," some chemists are concerned with "thinking small."

Through development of a new product called B-Nine, they are able to retard the growth of flowering plants.

Although this might seem strange, it actually serves professional plant and flower growers to produce larger flowers on clay-potted plants that do not spend all their energy in stem and leaf growth.

California, Alaska Have Most 'Quakes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California and Alaska have had more earthquakes than all the other states together, according to the California Resources Agency.

California has suffered approximately 30 strong earthquakes. The first of those on record was felt by Caspar de Portola in the southern part of the state in 1769. More than 500 persons were killed in the San Francisco earthquake of 1906, one of the state's three greatest temblors.

Dry Rooms Can Cause Sniffles

CHICAGO (UPI) — Back to school often means back to sniffles.

One company which makes humidifying equipment says the onslaught of fall colds are to be blamed not so much on changeable weather as on the "dryness of heated rooms in school and home.

Heating the indoor air dries it, explained Burton Shaffer, executive vice-president of Hamilton Humid-Aire. The dry air in turn leads to parched nose and throat membranes which doctors say are more vulnerable to cold germs. Humidifiers combat the dry air.

Interceptor Control Center Changes Hands

ANDREWS AIR FORCE BASE, Md. (AP) — The Air Force Systems Command has turned over to the Air Defense Command at North Truro, Mass., its first semiautomatic sage-backup interceptor control center.

The high-speed, computerized control center will provide air defense commanders with up-to-the-minute information on any airborne threats to the Boston sector.

Mexico GNP Shows Some Great Gains

By BARON F. LEVIN
Worldwide Press Service

MEXICO CITY — This year of 1965 may prove to be the year private enterprise blossomed as a full-fleged partner in Mexico's mixed economy.

Investment by the private sector appears for the first time to have carried the country over the usual sag while a new administration set its spending policies.

Mexico's gross national product grew an estimated five per cent during the first half of this year. First-quarter corporate reports generally showed increased earnings in comparison to the first quarter of last year.

Business, buoyed by record earnings in 1964 and bright prospects for upcoming years, continued spending heavily through the first part of 1965, even though the new Diaz Ordaz administration seemed in no hurry to announce its economic plans.

The economy also received added fuel via profit-sharing payments to employees and a revoluntionary program of bank loans for consumer credits for the purchase of "hard goods"—home appliances.

The stock market, spurred by heavy demand for securities and the good first-quarter reports, reached all-time highs in May.

Then came spring taxes as a sort of reminder that the government, while taking money out of the economy, wasn't yet putting any back in—except for administrative overhead, of course.

By mid-year, awareness of the lag in government programming began to be a factor in business psychology. Investment slowed and the stock market turned a little jumpy. After all, the Mexican government and state-owned corporations constitute en bloc the biggest single consumer in the economy. Their budgets can therefore be critical to profit margins.

By June the market was in retreat.

Finally the government announced a series of development projects. The market then stabilized and business resumed its concentration on business.

Was this all happenstance? Did business simply react on instinct to its high 1964 earnings? Or was the government content to let developments spin themselves out? Or did it, perhaps, plan a small educational cycle on business behavior without the No. 1 consumer being in the market?

These remain unanswered questions so far. But a bsic fact remains for study: private enterprise in 1965 stepped out ahead of government and became a pacesetter for spending. Usually it is the other way round, with the government having the heaviest hand on the economic rudder.

There are a growing number of economists — governmental and business — who believe that the experience of 1965 suggests that a more efficient accord between government and the private sector is both possible and desirable. On the basis of this new record, the two can meet more readily as equals, cognizant of the power in many sectors. They could reveal a trend towards a bigger role for private enterprise in Mexico's mixed economy.

Equipment Delayed, So Is Groundbreaking

Everything but the groundbreaker showed up for the groundbreaking ceremonies for the new San Marin fire station in Novato yesterday. The bulldozer intended for the event was off fighting a fire in Sonoma County.

Fire Chief George J. Cavallero and contractor Edward Campbell tried to push a 12-ton toe packer off a truck for use for pictures, but could not move it. The ceremony was rescheduled for today in hopes a bulldozer would arrive and work could begin.

Parent Meeting Due

An organizational meeting for the Dixie School Parents' Group has been scheduled for 8 p.m. today at the Upper Lucas Valley Community Center.

Number of farm households in U.S. as of March 1965 is 3,350,000, down from the 4,100,000 figure of 1960, says Census Bureau.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Man Contracts Undulant Fever By Direct Animal Contact

VAN DELLEN

Brucellosis primarily is a disease of animals. Man contracts the condition through direct contact with infected cattle, pigs, or goats. The causative organisms are found in the tissues, excretions, and secretions. Unpasteurized milk and fresh cheese frequently are blamed. The disease is not transmitted from man to man.

The onset of the malady may be slow, with the development of a mild fever, headache, weakness, insomnia, loss of appetite, and generalized aches and pain. Now and then the condition erupts suddenly with chills, high fever, sweats, and prostration. The spleen and the lymph glands in the neck, armpit, and grain may enlarge. Occasionally the joints swell and become painful as though arthritis had set in.

THE COURSE of the disease varies, but when untreated, the fever and symptoms tend to recur (undulate) for three to six months. Today the period of disability can be shortened with one of the tetracycline drugs and dihydrostreptomycin. Sixty per cent of the victims convalesce in less than two months. A small number have a protracted illness lasting a year.

At one time we believed brucellosis symptoms were caused by an allergy to the microbes. We know now that the victims become hypersensitive to toxins produced by the germs. There are three main species of Brucella organisms. The Br. abortus comes from cattle and is the most common cause of human brucellosis in this country. Br. melitensis, found in goats and sheep, is the most prevalent offender the world over. The disease was observed first on the Island of Malta during the last century and is the reason why the infection is called Malta fever.

THE LEAST common is Br. suis, which comes from swine. This is fortunate because this species is capable of producing a severe and chronic disease in humans and is a serious problem in the United States, Argentina, and Germany. Lesions resembling tuberculosis are frequently traced to Br. suis.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

PAINFUL SPINE

J. G. writes: I am 30 years old. Recently my back has been very painful. The doctor diagnosed it as arthritis of the spine. Is there anything that can be done to eliminate the pain?

REPLY

The salicylates and other pain killers are most useful. Cortison and phneylbutazone also are helpful. Heat, diathermy, and massage help the arthritis and temporary support is obtained with a corset.

CHOKED OFF

W. H. writes: What is meant by strangulated hernia?

REPLY

The ordinary hernia is a protrusion of a loop of bowel through a weakened part of the abdominal wall. If the intestine becomes stuck in this opening, the hernia is said to be strangulated and the pinched off loop is in danger of becoming gangrenous unless freed within a short time through surgery.

VEIN STRIPPING

A reader writes: Is it true that if leg veins are stripped, the limb becomes cold and numb?

REPLY

No. Varicose veins are passageways that are not working properly, and if anything, are reducing the efficiency of the circulatory system. Removal should benefit, and not harm, the leg.

BAD BREATH

Miss D. writes: Is there any cure for bad breath?

Yes, when the cause, such as an infected sinus or pyorrhea, is corrected. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on bad breath.

Today's Health Hint — Keep radios and hair dryers out of the bathroom.

Executive Power Growing Too Big, Politicians Say

BY JAMES FREE
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Many political observers fear that the United States is swinging dangerously close to government by the president.

This on top of apprehension about one-party government adds up to a large-scale worry about how the country is being run.

Republicans and the few remaining conservative Democrats have been talking about these things for some months now. The Capitol is sometimes being called a branch of the LBJ Ranch.

This week, in discussing the need for a president to consult Congress on the closing of military bases, chairman Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., told the House: ". . . at some future date a president or a secretary of defense may decide to close more than just a few bases at one time. He might decide to close all military bases, and in this way, bring about almost complete disarmament."

It could be argued that Republican leaders and Democratic dissenters like Representative Rivers are biased, that they are merely rivals of the president for political boodle.

But this can hardly be said of 13 respected political scientists who have voiced concern about the declining role of Congress, and proposed drastic steps to revive its strength as a co-equal branch of the government.

Under sponsorship of the American Enterprise Institute this group of scholars is winding up a summer project aimed at prompting new thought about the shrinking status of Congress on the national scene.

One of them, Dr. Alfred de Grazia, professor of government at New York University, suggests that Congress "should limit the presidency in respect to its control of legislation, its monopoly on news and publicity, and its control over the size, shape and substance of the executive branch."

Another, Dr. Cornelius P. Cotter of Wichita State University, Kan., thinks Congress should not leave it up to executive agencies to carry out congressional directives in the field. He advocates that Congress set up its own resident agents in various parts of the country to see to it that its legislative guidelines are not flouted.

Dr. Lewis A. Dexter of the University of South Florida thinks Congress is too dependent on executive agencies for detailed information and analysis of federal programs. He says, "Congress must have its own experts and use them for its own tasks and purposes."

Sam Lubell, writer on public affairs, believes that Congress should look into conditions under which the press and other media center public attention on the president to the extent of "making it exceedingly difficult to create not only a favorable image but any stable image of Congress among the citizenry."

Throughout the preliminary digest of what the political scientists will report later in the fall the theme recurs of dangers of the too-potent presidency.

Dr. de Grazia, coordinator of a 13-expert study to be published in book form, warns of "the increase in presidential personalism: The exaltation of an office above its stated powers and capacities of the incumbent, which poses a veritable threat of dictatorship—or whatever one may wish to call the phenomenon of the people's overly great dependence upon the magical qualities of a person occupying an outstanding prominent office."

Pedestrian Hit Near Highway

A pedestrian was struck by a car Sunday as he stood talking to a friend in another car on the east frontage road of Highway 101, about 135 feet north of the Richardson Bay Bridge pedestrian overpass.

Russell Mancebo, 23, of 16 Butte Street, Sausalito, suffered a bruised left knee when he was struck by a car driven by Dierdre M. Hockett, 34, of 137 Evergreen Lane, Mill Valley, the California Highway Patrol reported. He was hit as he talked with Robert R. Swann, 26, of Muir Beach, the patrol said. Mancebo was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Wild-flower gardening has grown so popular that several nurseries sell nothing but hard-to-find wild-flower seeds and plants.

Pesticide Cancer Study Set In New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service says a study is to be made of more than 350,000 cancer deaths in New York State over the past 25 years to seek clues as to whether pesticides may have been involved.

There also will be a study of 120,000 living persons diagnosed as having cancer during the past five years. Health Service, Inc., of Albany, N.Y., will do the investigative work at a cost of $103,744.

San Rafael Man Hurt In Wreck

John Ellis Brown, 21, of 11 Merrydale Road, San Rafael, suffered a head injury at 7:45 a.m. yesterday when his car, southbound on Highway 101, hit the divider strip at the Greenbrae intersection, glanced off another car and crashed into the concrete guard rail on the right side of the highway.

Brown said his brakes failed when he tried to slow for the traffic merging from Greenbrae. His car hit one driven by George E. Schell, 40, of 53 Maplewood Drive, San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Brown was taken to Marin General Hospital, where he was reported in fair condition.

Course To Give Speedy License Reinstatement

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Starting in January auto drivers with revoked licenses can get their permits back sooner by going to driver improvement school.

Under the plan, drivers will be retrained in defensive driving, taught safe driving habits and compliance with traffic laws under a two-hours-a-week, month-long course. The course will permit drivers to cut as much as two months off the time their licenses have been suspended.

TELEVISION REVIEW

There's Some Good In The New Shows

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — With several exceptions, network television's just-ended premiere week of new series was reminiscent of the Herb Shriner story about the time his home town had a beauty contest and nobody won.

It seems to me I've used that line before—probably last season— but it stands. It couldn't be much more applicable than it is this new season. Thus it probably isn't much of an honor to be the top freshman entry this year—but in any case there can be little doubt that the class of the field is NBC-TV's one-hour "I Spy" series, in which Robert Culp and Bill Cosby play a couple of secret agents knocking about the world pretending to be a tennis bum and his trainer-companion.

The chief attraction of this Wednesday adventure-comedy series, and the reason for its charm, is not so much the espionage idea as the delightful human and personal relationship of the two principals, both fine, intelligent performers in light as well as heavy moments. They could be playing two truckdrivers, and the result would be the same.

The two other best freshman entries I've seen thus far also belong to NBC-TV, and both are also an hour in length: "Run For Your Life," in which Ben Gazzara is a splendidly cool hero who has been told he has only a year or two to live and decides to experience life to the hilt; and "The Wackiest Ship in the Army," a comedy-adventure with Jack Warden and some excellent character actors in a tale of an old schooner on espionage missions in the South Pacific in World War II.

Both of these shows, if no threats to "Hamlet" or even "The Odd Couple," are very professional commercial and well-produced examples of plush escapism, and show promise as unpretentious entertainments.

In fact, almost all the new shows worth taking a second or third look at are on NBC-TV. If you like Dean Martin's insouciance, as I do, you will like his hour NBC variety series. "Get Smart," on the same network, and dealing with a totally incompetent secret agent, is a half-hour comedy with possibilities if its writers can meet the tough standards of good satire and farce over the long haul. And "Hank," another NBC half-hour comedy—about an unregistered college "drop-in" who wants an education—has an appealing notion, if it stays with it.

Over at ABC-TV, meanwhile, there is a good, old-fashioned, blood-and-thunder western, "The Big Valley," with Barbara Stanwyck as the head of wealthy ranching family. And the same network also has a half-hour comedy with modest possibilities — "O.K. Crackerby," starring Burl Ives as a rich fellow with no manners who hires a young Harvard graduate to give his children the polish he lacks.

CBS-TV apparently is stuck with most of the schedule of its deposed President, James Aubrey. The series here seems of most interest to me is already rumored in trouble — "The Smothers Brothers Show" — with Tom Smothers as an apprentice angel on earthly missions. If CBS can only improve its stories and find the precisely right format, the show could be a delight, for Tom is a brilliantly funny comedian.

The Spanish-Portuguese frontier is the oldest unchanged border on the continent of Europe, the National Geographic says.

San Quentin Officer Wins $31,170 Damag

A Humboldt County Superior Court jury has awarded a San Quentin correctional officer $31,170 for injuries suffered in a Sept. 23, 1963, traffic accident.

The verdict for John F. McInerney, House 36, San Quentin Village, was against John Woolsey Hagan and his son, John A. Hagan, both of Phillipsville, Humboldt County, in a two-car collision in Humboldt County. T. G. Fitzgerald of San Rafael represented McInerney.

'Finger Parks' Now Considered

Sausalito recreation commissioners will visit eight sites in central Sausalito's waterfront area to consider the possibility of filling some of the city's underwater streets for "finger parks."

It is proposed, reported Mrs. Kathleen Krajeski, secretary, that a site be picked to be recommended to city council for a pilot project.

Bridge Saving Honor For Driver

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — Officials were ready to honor the two-millionth motorist to cross the St. Mary's International bridge here until:

No. 2,000,000 was a bridge employe; No. 2,000,001 was the bridge maintenance truck; No. 2,000,002 was a large black car with Texas license plates and a driver who made biting remarks to the toll collector about the recent rain, the cold, and his longing for a quick return to warmer climtes.

Officials will wait and honor No. 3,000,000 next year.
